to disappear from those communities with low price ceilings. The Department of Agriculture lowered the price on its Land-Lease purchases to relieve the domestic situation, and offered a plan to help keep packers in business when they face losses.

War On High Rents Goes On
Price Administrator Henderson carried the war on excessive rents to 18 more areas, in which charges will go under control of rent districts August 1. OPA began a country-wide campaign to stop profiteering in the sale of beverages to soldiers near camps; protected the public with a new kind of regulation setting standards for soap; and engaged in these further activities:

Set ceiling prices on book matches; fruit cake; Maine sealine sold to distributors; New Zealand pickled sheepskins; paperboard products; wrapping and bag papers; ferromanganese briquettes, and nickel anodes. Revised the Southern hardwood lumber regulation. Changed the pricing of fats and oils and rolled back prices of inedible fats and tallow to take the "squeeze" off soap manufacturers. Assured legal price levels for peanut growers. Extended easier price-adjustment methods to coal dealers.

WPB also continued to clean up details:

Simplified hand tools to save metal; took control of used silk hosiery; long staple cotton, cotton linters and hull fiber, and balsa (balsa used to be in golf balls and tennis shoes, now is needed for self-sealing gas tanks); tightened restrictions on leather and rubber; ordered a country-wide inventory of new commercial motor vehicles.

population increased 32 per cent. Only two states—Florida and California—exceeded Michigan during this decade.

5. That Michigan State College, founded in 1857, was the first agricultural college in the United States? As a result of its success, the act was made a law in 1862.

6. That Michigan State Normal college, founded in 1852, was the first normal school west of Albany, New York? Other colleges now include Central at Mount Pleasant, Western at Kalamazoo and Northern at Marquette.

7. That the second oldest continuously maintained parish of the Roman Catholic church in the United States is St. Anne's, Detroit? This church was established two days after Cadillac's landing on July 21, 1701. Father Gabriel Richards, pastor from 1802 to 1832, was the only priest ever to serve in Congress.

8. That Michigan's nationally famous state department of conservation administers 55 state parks and 12 state forests and maintains a forest fire division to protect 20,000,000 acres of forest land? The world's first forest fire experiment station is located near Roscommon; short wave radio is utilized.

9. That Michigan sells more hunting and fishing licenses in proportion to its population than any other state?

10. That the Knights of Labor, formed in 1869 on principles of craft organization (the same as the C.I.O.), elected 35 members to the state legislature in 1836 and were instrumental in helping to enact considerable progressive legislation such as a compulsory school attendance law, ten-hour day, a moderate child labor law, industrial safety device act and laws requiring mine inspection and abolition of child labor in mines?

11. That Michigan's natural resources include copper, iron, gold, salt, limestone, coal, gypsum, oil and gas?

12. That rock salt is mined under Detroit (with huge deposits beneath the Detroit river) at a depth of 1,150 feet?

13. That Michigan has almost twice as much standing timber as Wisconsin? In 1849 there were 558 sawmills in Michigan, employing 2,750 persons. Residents then believed that the supply was inexhaustible!

14. That Michigan laid the first cement highway, built one of the first super-highways, was the first to adopt a policy of "clear vision ahead" in highway design and is leading other states in scenic roads?

15. That the first telephone system in Michigan was built by a mine operator at Ontonagon after he had seen Bell's invention at the Philadelphia exposition?

16. That the Olds Motor Works erects in Detroit first factory built in America for manufacture of automobiles? Ransom E. Olds' first auto steamer appeared in 1887 at Lansing. Steam was generated by burning gasoline.

17. That 135,455 Michigan men served in the first World War? Edwin Donbe, who enlisted in Michigan as a private in 1917 became secretary of the navy in 1921.

18. That the last Indian stronghold in Michigan was the Keweenaw Peninsula and Isle Royale which were ceded officially to the government 100 years ago on October 4?

19. That Abraham Lincoln gave an anti-slavery address in Kalamazoo in 1856? The Republican party had been formed at Jackson in 1851; Michigan was inflamed for abolition of slavery.

20. That St. James, a town on Beaver Island off Charlevoix, was once the capital of a Mormon kingdom and the seat of Emmet and Manitow counties in 1847? James Strang, leader, ruled the island as a king and later was elected to the House of Representatives at Lansing. His slayers escaped on a United States revenue cutter and were released by the sheriff at Mackinaw City.

AT THE REDFORD THEATER

The film version of "King's" underlines the memorable drama.

Row," one of the most popular novels of this decade, will be the new screen offering at the Redford Theatre, starting Friday. Ann Sheridan, Robert Cummings, Ronald Reagan and Betty Field head one of the most distinguished casts ever assembled in one motion picture.

Vividly brought to life on the screen is this story of young people, hemmed in by the stifling inhibitions and taboos of a small mid-western town in the early years of this century. Struggling to find happiness against the opposition of the seething undercurrent of gossip and back-biting, the strong and brave emerge victorious, the weak are submerged.

Two young men, and the two romances in which each becomes involved provide the central dramatic situations. The love affair of Robert Cummings as Freddie Mitchell, the gently-reared grandson of a foreign noblewoman, and his childhood sweetheart, Casandra (played by Betty Field) meets a tragic end. He eventually finds some consolation and a promise of future happiness with Elise, played by Karen Verne. The other young man, Drake McHugh, who is portrayed by Ronald Reagan, is embittered by the parental opposition which Louise Gordon's (Nancy Coleman) family put in the way of their marriage, but finds his true mate in Randy Monaghan (Ann Sheridan), the night girl from the wrong side of the tracks.

Casey Robinson wrote the screen play from Henry Bellamann's novel, and Erich Wolfgang Korngold provided the musical score which War calls must go through!

Every American is glad to give the right of way to our fighting forces in these days of war.

Remember that telephone lines are highways too—highways of speech over which thousands of vital military and war production messages must travel each day. And Long Distance lines between Michigan points and other war centers are now carrying an extra heavy load of war calls.

Because of material shortages we can't add enough new lines to handle the increased traffic. So it's up to all of us to make the most efficient use of the facilities we now have.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP

1. Make only the most essential Long Distance calls.
2. Keep your conversations as brief as you can.
3. When possible, give the number of the distant telephone you are calling.

Local service can be improved in the same way. Try to keep all calls as short as possible. Show your children how they, too, can aid the nation's effort by keeping their calls brief. And please don't call information for a number when it's listed in the directory. The telephone calls you save can speed delivery of a plane or tank!
