INDUSTRY AND BUSINESS AFTER THE WAR

Every American knows that the manufacture of automobiles has ceased for the duration of the war. The great automobile industry which in 1940 produced more than 3 1/2 million cars, has been re-tooled to produce airplanes, guns, tanks and munitions of war. Where will these companies get the money necessary to restart the manufacture of automobiles when the war is ended?

The automobile industry happens to be important, and there are thousands of smaller industries which will also face the same problem. What will the millions of workers do when the demand for war machines stops?

What happens to the domestic market for farm products when those millions of war workers no longer have jobs? The stage seems set for an even worse depression after World War II than we suffered after World War I unless right now we start to plan about these surpluses.

War Profits for Peace-Time Recovery.

The best plan seems to contemplate the dedication of a portion of war profits for the purpose of providing industry with the ready cash on hand to quickly change to peacetime production and thus lessen the shock to manufacturing and agricultural surpluses when the war is ended.

A Recovery Bond program has been suggested whereby each industry, big and little, will be required to invest at least 20 per cent of its war profits in Recovery Bonds which do not bear interest until the war is ended and which cannot be sold by the purchaser until peace is declared.

Such a plan would build, at the rate of smaller industries which year, a huge recovery reserve to convert war industries to peace production, launch new products and maintain employment. It would automatically in the hands of those businesses and industries with the greatest after-the-war needs.

The program as it is declared the "recovery reserve," automatically releases this recovery reserve, the bonds become negotiable and begin to draw interest. Purchasers holding them will not lose them like any other Government bonds, to be sold or used to borrow money. There would be no waiting for a post-war Congressional appropriation, no red tape and no delay in launching the business and industry offensive that may turn threatened depression into unrivaled prosperity.

The plan is simple, practical and During late years science and research have discovered many new uses for present major farm crops and many new uses which can be used in industry. A plan of this character places immediately in the hands of industry the resources which can be used to finance further research and to plan for the conversion of surplus crops, surplus factory buildings and the employment of war workers in new and useful enterprises whenever they war shall cease and normal peacetime industry, business and agriculture shall be resumed.

This problem deserves the thought. If we can have the assurance of reasonable security in the after-the-war recovery period we can throw ourselves into an all-out effort to win the war and to do that by so doing we have secured "the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

No "Bech An-mule"

For many years there have been stories of so-called glass snakes which break into many pieces when attacked—or when even menaced—and then reassemble the head is destroyed. Most of these stories arise from the legless, brittle-tailed lizard, which has the ability to drop its tail, thus enabling it to escape. This later is replaced by a short "spike" or imperfect tail.
