Annual Show March 3

You can't afford to miss the fourth annual show presented by the Kiwanis Club of Farmington from what we hear, around the town. It is going to be better this year than ever before and it's your chance to see local and professional talent without having to get your priority. Talent will not be rationed—Save your gas and tires by having your entertainment brought to Farmington. Hurry, Hurry, Hurry! The best times of all move to Carnegie Hall after this show. Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at Pierce Insurance Agency.

Seriously, Kiwanis Club presents an annual production of local talent each year to raise funds to carry on its work for the underprivileged children of this community and we are striving to give you a show that has been well worth the price of admission. Your support of the cause is appreciated.

The curtain opens at 8:15 sharp. The first act will be presented by radio stars of Detroit that you have all heard on the air and have often wanted to see. This is your opportunity.

Don't go out for intermission. Have your fun with the lucky people who will receive their rewards by being in the right seats at the right time.

The "Kape", opening the second act, will show to the people of Farmington night life in a big city and what they are not missing. Perce Pauline will act as the Master of Ceremonies and he can go the M.C.'s in Detroit, New York and points west are better when it comes to M. C'ing. He'll do his stuff on the singing and dancing. Worth the price of admission alone.

Eddie Alexander with new songs and steps! It wouldn't be a show without Eddie.

Jim Warner won't miss a cue through the whole show and his verses on the song "Move It Over" will catch some of the local people with the rubber gone from their suspenders. Any similarity or resemblance to any person living or dead is purely intentional and the libel does not stand behind his remarks.

Other local people appearing in a variety of acts are Bill Newton, Ernesine Pierce, Judy Taylor, Dick Merritt, Helen MacDonald, Tom Brennan, Nancy Cummings, Ilene Morris, Ruth Bacon, Vic Blakeslee, Marie Walling, Harold Harkett, Liz Smith.

Dick Taylor will NOT be in this year. It's worth your while to come and not see him again.

Hank Flaney with his orchestra and a couple of professional acts from Detroit and you can't find a better value for 55c.

It's snappy, funny, tuneful, and we thank you one and all for your past support and good luck to you until next year as the curtain goes down on "Kiwanis Kapers of '43".
