

American Legion

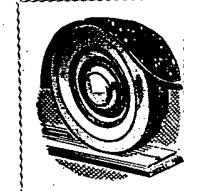

Notes

By F. W. Lowrie

The regular meeting of the Groves-Walker Post, American Legion, will be held Thursday, January 7, at 8:30 p. m. An invitation is extended to every veteran living in or near Farmington to attend Post meetings.

To those in service the members of the Groves-Walker Post wish to convey this thought: We are behind you every way possible to assist you in Victory. Our aim is that everyone will return again soon to our midst. As you have been trained for your duty in the Armed Forces, so we in turn, are receiving our training in the services needed to help you, and we are beginning to hit our stride.

We shall be ever watchful that that Freedom and Liberty you left behind is not impaired or turned aside during these times of stress and necessity. Be of hope and ever mindful that we, the Legion, shall carry on in your absence.

THREE CHEERS FOR YOU
from our men in uniform!

And thanks to you from Greyhound for postponing your trip until after the Holiday rush

Thanks to you, a most critical period in wartime bus transportation has been passed with flying colors.

Just before Christmas, Greyhound asked you to "Give your Holiday trips to men in the service." And you who have learned to depend upon Greyhound for travel responded wholeheartedly.

Because you postponed such trips, thousands of men and women in the armed forces were able to go home by bus for Holiday leaves and furloughs. They thank you for the precious hours spent with loved ones — and Greyhound thanks you for cooperating so patriotically.

While helping men in uniform, you also made travel smoother and more convenient for war workers and others whose trips could not wait. It's cooperation like this that makes it possible for Greyhound and other bus lines to carry on the tremendous mass-transportation job so essential to winning the war.

Now that the Holiday rush is past, Greyhound will make every effort to see that the service you count on is available when you need it — and with all the comfort and convenience that war conditions will permit.

We suggest, however, that you phone or call on your Greyhound agent well in advance of any trip. He can help you choose days and schedules that will be most convenient for you — and best for those traveling.

Putting together this way, we'll keep America's highways at work for Victory!

is putting all she has in the war, and yet putting more:

I also wish to inform you, sir, a change in my address. Here I am in Camp Hale, Colorado — the best built Camp in the country. Elevation, 9,500 feet, and plenty of snow for your skis. It was twenty below this morning, and when it's that chilly a fellow doesn't stand around much. Military skiing did the fella bit, from just plain skiing, especially after strapping on a 60 pound pack.

We fellows in our regiment never say goodbye — just so long.

Sincerely,
James Belcher.

SERVICE NOTES

We have had numerous requests asking that soldiers addresses be published in these columns. We have not published any addresses, in accordance with a request from the office of censorship at Washington.

If you know what ship a sailor is on, or what company or regiment a soldier is with overseas, then you know a military "secret," then you know a military "secret," then you know a military "secret."

This secret ought not to be published. This is why:

A general needs to know the strength of his opponent: how many men, guns, ships, planes there are in each theater of war. The Nazis and the Japs want to know these things about our forces. Their agents assemble the information: like this: from one paper, an item reveals the 60th Infantry is in Australia; another, that the U. S. S. Wisconsin is in the Mediterranean; another, that the 26th Tank Battalion is in North Africa.

Add hundreds of these bits of information together, and our enemies have a too-accurate estimate of American military strength.

These are our soldiers — Americans, all — whom we endanger by these "little slips."

This is not a "blackout" on the news about our soldiers. Considerable latitude in reporting personal experiences gives the enemy little military information. In the troop units, the ship names are kept secret. But in articles about soldiers and sailors and in the addresses for them, don't give away their fighting units.

Private William Brennan is now with the U. S. Signal Corps and is attending school in Paducah, Kentucky.

Included in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Thayer, Private Ed Thayer of Fort Lawton, Washington, sent the following message:

I wish to thank the people of Farmington for the many holiday greetings, and let them know that the people of the City of Seattle didn't forget us, either. It is well to be remembered by so many.

In his letter home he stated that for the past two weeks he has been sorting letters and packages for the men at Fort Lawton, and re-addressing mail to men who have left the Fort. The average is about 350 men per day to take care of.

Though generally having one of two destinations, Private Thayer says that about the time they are broken in along comes an order and away they go.

"We had a very nice Christmas and a very good dinner. Everybody got presents. Our store room was packed full. The people of Seattle sure played Santa Claus to the soldiers."

Pvt. Edward Thayer, Fort Lawton, Washington.

Captain Francis E. Cogsdin, who has been stationed at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, is expected home this week on a ten day furlough. His wife, and his proud parents are anxiously waiting his arrival, as are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cogsdin of Royal Oak.

It is estimated that 900,000,000 tires have been scrapped, since World War I.

INCOME TAX ARTICLES BEGIN THIS WEEK

turns. To the large number of persons now subject to the Federal income tax, who have never reported income before for Federal tax purposes, an understanding of the law and applicable regulations is of prime importance.

An income tax return is a declaration on the part of the taxpayer of his total taxable income for the year, together with the various deductions, exemptions, and credits to which he is entitled. It is in reliance upon voluntary disclosure, and the integrity of taxpayers generally, that the cost of administration of the income tax can be kept at a minimum. Though the return is a voluntary statement, any person who willfully makes a return which he does not believe to be true and correct in every material matter is subject to the penalties provided by law.

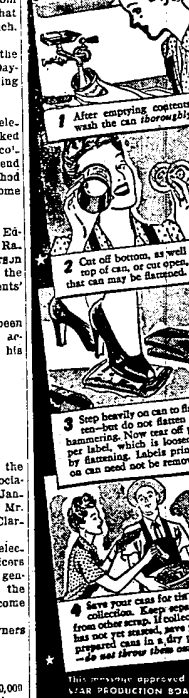

The first requirement of the law is the filing of an appropriate return, for individuals generally, this must be made by March 15 following the end of the calendar year. The return must be filed with the appropriate Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which is located the legal residence, or principal place of business of the person making the return.

Under the present law every single person not living with husband or wife, having a total income (earnings, together with other income) of $55 or more, and married persons living with husband or wife throughout the taxable year, who have an aggregate income (total earnings of both husband and wife, together with other income) of $1,200 or more, regardless of the amount of net income, must file a return.

Torrid Trousters
Then there's the soldier who was pressing his own points in the barracks. A buddy to whom practical joking was great fun sneaked up behind him with a strand of burning string, snuffed the air, startled the ironer into believing he was burning his trousers. After a frantic inspection of the pants, he was let in on the gag, set down the iron and joined in the laughter — only to turn around a few seconds later to discover that he had set the hot iron on the leg of the breeches and given them a thorough scorching!

A Midwest columnist reported that a Chicago girl received a Christmas card mailed November 21, 1941, in France. The sender had the card in the form of a news bulletin and, under the guise of humor, managed to slip considerable information by the censor. It revealed that "Yule logs are rationed" and that "the two shadows of other former selves send you their best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Chapter 1 is repeated for the benefit of those who missed it last week.

On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Fred Piper" is showing. It is the story of an Englishman who had never been able to endure

On the same billing is "Talk of the Town" when Cary Grant is seen as a rebel who escapes to the home of Jean Arthur. Her efforts to shield him because further complicated since she has rented her home to a law school dean. It is highly amusing and packed with fast action and dialogue.

Wednesday and Thursday each lady attending the movie will receive free an oven test dish.

Mr. and Mrs. William Henrich entertained Private Tom Duffy at dinner Sunday. Private Duffy, after spending a month in a hospital recovering from wounds received in North Africa, is home on a 30 day furlough.
