Gift of Sam.

French Indo China and Thailand occupy most of the sweeping horseshoe curve of the Gulf of Siam's coastline. It is only at the entrance waters that the Malay states are involved. Burma has no outlet on the Gulf of Siam, though the Burmese-Thai border at one point is only 20 miles from the gulf coast. From Bangkok to Rangoon, Burma capital and once the gateway to the famed Burma road, northwest across sea and land, is about 370 air miles.

Prize of the U. S.
Traditionally a protégé of the United States, Liberia was first colonized by American freed slaves nearly a century and a quarter ago. In 1847, its government and constitution were modeled generally after those of the United States; its capital, Monrovia, was named for James Monroe, 16th President of the United States. Uncle Sam is the leading buyer and seller in Liberian markets. English is the official language, spoken in the settled and civilized coastal regions.
