EDITORIAL

A few weeks ago an editorial appeared in these columns about some place where the students could go for light refreshments after the basketball games and other school entertainments. Members of the Methodist Book Club served sandwiches and soft drinks last week-end at the church.

Much credit should be given to the Methodist Book Club for helping the kids out in such a fine way.

—Alfred Wallbank.

'TIS SAID

Help! Boy, is there a lot of backstabbing going on. All because of the Girl-Band. If it doesn't hurry up and be over, there certainly won't be many friends left. Or will there?

Are the tournaments fun? Gosh, all the men that were running around this week-end! I saw the poor Farmington girls stand such a sudden change in the atmosphere?

There is a slight rumor drifting around the corners of school that the Seniors are going to break down. Yes, sir—they are going to give a program—maybe. What we hear it is going to be something! Now perhaps other classes will sit up and take notice.

We really want to give the people who helped serve food to the kids in the Methodist Church a big hand. We know that all the gang enjoyed themselves.

Helen Morris really seems to be suffering. She doesn't look her best with her nose all hidden under bandages like that. Oh, well, Helen, a broken nose doesn't last forever. Now—let's see... just how bad that happened!

"I said Betty Winters had an encounter with a mad dog Monday night! She was badly scratched up Tuesday morning. Hey, Betty, what's the joke? First we hear about bears—then about dogs?"

—Ima Surchin.

JUNIORS SHOW FINE DISPLAY OF TALENT

Thursday forenoon the Juniors put on the only student program given this year. Jean Puvelog, Peggy Prisk, Pat O'Rourke, Peggy Dwyer, Zona Libstaff, Ilene Morris, Audrey Lathrup, Alice Ferrante, Lillian Larson, Shirley Koss, Betty Aschenbrenner, Kathleen Tassie, Barbara Erickson, Jackie Erwin, Leo Hupert, Dick Merritt and Burke Johnson took part. Miss Wisniewski helped in the general planning.

Peggy Dwyer and Barbara Erickson sang "There Are Such Things." Skippy Mason played "Anchors Aweigh," and the Air Corps sang from his accordion. The sextette from the Girls' Glee Club sang "You'd Be So Nice to Come Home To," accompanied by Miss Bacon at the piano. Shirley Koss and Alice Ferrante sang "Roseanne of Charming Cross." The program ended with Dick Merritt's singing of "Moonlight Becomes You" and "I Had the Craziest Dream."

Sixth Graders Show Varied Interests

The sixth graders have organized a Junior Citizens Club with the following officers: Chairman, Marjorie Hunt; secretary, Velma Goers, and treasurer, Gay Beals. They hold their meetings every Thursday morning. Besides carrying on their business, they are Junior members of the Red Cross.

Friday they presented their teacher, Miss Helen Thomas, with a two-pound box of candy for her birthday.

Absences have been numerous; consequently those in school have been reviewing.

They are studying safety rules and each student has made a map showing his route to school. Each map is studied, and each pupil lists the precautions he must take.

—J. Leach.

Tournament Pep Meeting Held

A pep meeting was sponsored by the Student Council Friday afternoon in the gym. All the yell leaders were out cheering in full colors. Mr. Strobel told how fortunate F.H.S. was to have the tournaments held here and asked for the usual good student cooperation.

DID YOU SEE?

Did you see four girls on the 2 o'clock bus one day recently? Well, if you did, they weren't skipping school—no, just going to the dentist. They sat in the back of the bus by themselves and, although we sat near the front, we could hear their chatter and laughter. We even had to smile once or twice—not at them, but with them. Yes, these are typical American girls, happy and carefree to the world, but each one carries deep in her heart a prayer for a brother or sweetheart—out there. You see—we know these girls.

Save 17 Million Taxes

If the nation's 27 million motorists cut their 1943 driving to the figure recommended—5,600 miles—they will save more than 17 million taxes, according to estimates.

WHEN YOU FLY KITES, PLAY SAFE—THIS WAY

SPRING WEATHER brings out kites; of course, it's fun to fly them—but be sure to see that it's done safely! When the youngsters go out with kites, see that these safety rules are observed for the children's sake:

Fly kites only in the open fields, entirely away from any electric line. This is safer for the kite, too; it doesn't get tangled with wires and lost or broken.

String containing metal (such as Christmas tinsel cord) should not be used. If it should come in contact with an electric line, serious injury might result. Even plain cotton cord conducts electricity when wet, so don't allow kite-flying during a rain. String that has fallen into puddles should be well dried out before use. Don't use metal frames in kites.

A live wire looks like any other wire. It may not be an electric line, but another wire carrying electricity can charge it by touching it some place that you cannot see. So teach children to stay clear of any wires while flying kites.

Kite flying is fun—and it's safe, when you're careful.
