Basis for Patent
In a recent patent case, Justice
Douglas of the Supreme Court said that a new device, in order to be patentable, "must reveal the flash of creative genius." Such then, low er courts have applied this test to other cases and held patents invalid because they did not reveal the flash of creative genius.

In Egypt at an early year
Some noble gent invented beer.

He brewed it there beside the Nile
And drank it with a pleasant smile.

He worked with kettles all uncovered;
Germs hadn't even been discovered.

But since the air was crystal-clear,
In open vats, he made good beer.

Here in Michigan, as of today,
Altes isn't brewed that simple way.

We have a lot more smoke and grime
Than people of that early time.

So Altes folks found what to do—
We went to work and sealed our Brew!

Thus Altes made a new sensation
By conquering contamination!

See it gleam so clean and clear—
Taste it, brother . . . m-m-m that's BEER!

Mother Nature taught us to brew Altes Lager. In fruits and nuts she seals the flavor in and keeps impurities out. We took her tip—Altes is made and aged in hermetically-sealed, instead of open, vats—nothing foreign gets in—nothing good gets out. Altes' exclusive brewing process gives you that mellow aged-in, sealed-in flavor. No other beer can offer you so much.
