

MONDAY NIGHT... there was a grand group of ladies out at the Red Cross Bandage Unit, and busy hands completed a record number of bandages. Wednesday night when the ladies again met to work at the Bandage Unit, there were all too few workers, however. It wasn't even a rainy night—just to accounting for the small group. Won't you make an extra little effort, and try to give some time to this important work? The bandages are so badly needed.

FEWER DOGS... have been noticed around town this past week. You don't suppose the poor animals sense the approaching quarantine, and realize that Farmington is no longer their happy hunting ground?

THE LILACS... are beautiful, particularly the ones at Spencer Heene's, and one at Horace Durban's. Their fragrance fills the air. And speaking of beauty—the lovely red geraniums down at Howard Thayer's are certainly a bright note along Grand River. Very attractive, indeed.

THIS WEEK... sees the end of another term of school, and Farmington boys and girls will have three full months and a little bit in which to relax from studies. Many of them are expected to be profitably employed during those leisure hours—here's luck.

NAVY UNIFORMS... seem to hold first place in town this week. We've had the pleasure of having a couple of British sailors here on Wednesday.

PLEASE REMEMBER... the Memorial Day services on Sunday. The services at the High School Auditorium are so close to us that it is a personal obligation to attend. You will be glad that you were there.

THEATRE MANAGER

LOYD GULLEN

The management of the Civic Theatre has been taken over by Lloyd Gullen. Mr. Gullen is not new to Farmington's business scene, for he has been well known for a number of years as a Farmington real estate dealer.

Mr. Gullen was named Civic Theatre manager to replace Edward J. Bohler, who left on Wednesday of this week for San Diego, California, where he will enter training with the United States Marines.

"The Civic Theatre will continue its policy of bringing to Farmington the best in film entertainment," Mr. Gullen said. This fact is borne out by the outstanding attractions that are showing at the theatre this week.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE CALLS TO BE LIMITED

Detroit, May 26.—Beginning Monday, May 24, long distance telephone calls will be limited to five minutes.

On that date, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company will institute the new practice in order to help conserve time and overloaded telephone lines. This request by the operator will be made only on calls which have been delayed because circuits were unavailable.

On such calls, the operator, after completing the connection, will say: "Please limit your call to five minutes—others are waiting."

George M. Welch, president of the company, said that "notwithstanding the cooperation of many people in limiting their use of long distance service to only the most necessary calls, the fact remains that the number of calls to war-busy centers continues to increase."

"The new practice is important to the service because it makes it impossible to use of materials make it impossible to add sufficient circuits to busy centers for handling the additional calls. If our customers generally will limit their calls to five minutes, the need for new connections during busy periods can be reduced considerably."

The public is being informed of the new practice through advertising.

Oakland County Inductees Will Not Go Hungry

Army inductees leaving Oakland County no longer feel pangs of hunger before arriving at Fort Custer, if the local Red Cross chapter has anything to do with it. The canteen corps has begun packing a substantial nourishing lunch in attractive boxes for each boy.

"That lunch sure was delicious and really hit the spot," writes a county lad who entrained last week. The Red Cross began this service when notified that often the inductees, after leaving the county during the early afternoon, would not reach the camp until after an opportunity to get a meal until nearly midnight.

The canteen corps already has packed more than a hundred of the lunches and plans to give one to each inductee leaving Pontiac, Birmingham and Royal Oak. The Southern Oakland county division of the canteen has been active in this project for some time.

Following extensive study and experimentation, the canteen corps has developed a lunch which is both nutritious and pleasing to inductees, who undoubtedly are under a severe strain when leaving their families and entering army life. Each neat white box contains three sandwiches of meat, egg and peanut butter, as well as some fruit and cookies.

The present Pack Organization consists of Dr. Weaver, chairman; Jayward Tupper, vice-chairman; Franklin Ryan, secretary; R. H. Taylor, treasurer; Lee Moats and Mahlon Bradley, members. Eddie Alexander is cubmaster, located at Curtis Hall and Francis Buttermore assistant cubmasters and Mrs. H. Bowman and Mrs. A. Beals, den mothers.

The present pack consists of two dens. Mrs. Bowman's Den at 2323 Maple Street, has five Cubs, and a new Den with Mrs. Albert Beals as den mother, located at 2321 Prospect Street is in process of organization. With a present membership of three members.

There are many boys waiting to become Cubs and there is little doubt that the organization will grow rapidly. At present an effort is being made to establish at least one additional Den on the west side of town.

The committee has completed plans to set up a library of books for use of the Cub Pack. It is hoped that the library will be started by contributions of books. Later books will be purchased to add to the collection. People having books which would appeal to boys from 9 to 12 years of age and on a high level, particularly books on handicraft, Indian lore, animals, nature and adventure, who would like to contribute them to the library, are asked to leave them either at Hamilton's Market or at the office of the Farmington Lumber and Coal Company.

Baseball Squad Ends Season

Farmington High School's baseball season was cut short by rain. Eight games were scheduled, but of these only four could be played. The boys broke even, with two wins and two losses. However, their margin in each contest, the fielding was away below average because the diamond was never in playing condition. Most of the few hours of practice was spent in batting. The results were in contrast to those in fielding, with Farmington collecting 41 hits to their opponents' 24.

Bacon led the batting list, netting an average of .727. Other members of the team were Tyler, .556; Pauline, .535; Monette, .500; Meyreles, .411; Kisch, .411; Aschenbrenner, .411; Banghart, .333; Fisher, .311; Schroeder, .300; and Malone, .000.

Memorial Day Services To Honor Present War Dead

Old Hosiery Is Collected

An idea of the assistance High School girls can give in the War Effort is shown by the picture elsewhere on this page, of the salvage of silk and nylon hosiery.

When Mr. Hunt, salvage chairman for Farmington City and Township, asked the local High School girls for assistance in collecting silk and nylon hosiery, the Farmington High School Home Economics class, under the able leadership of its teacher, Miss Edith Rich, immediately volunteered its services.

Miss Rich selected a committee of the 30 students in her classes, who set out at once to learn everything about the war needs of silk and nylon hosiery. Then the committee selected from its class membership various girls whose duties were to talk to all the local women's organizations, and to give weekly talks in the local theatre. The balance of the class membership started the distribution of literature throughout the City and Township. In addition, hosiery collection boxes were placed in stores, banks, school classrooms and in the Civic Theatre.

The result, as shown in the picture, was the collection of 326 pounds of silk and nylon hosiery. This salvaged hosiery will be used by the Government for gunpowder bags, parachutes, light flares, and for a more recent usage—tan trousers for the new American gliders.
