"TRAILER VAGABOND"

By WARREN BAYLEN

AUSTIN, TEXAS

The State Capitol of Texas is more than all the other Capitols in the United States combined. It is no larger than the average—400-vaulted masonry-vapor lamps and no more beautiful. Yet it cost you to read a newspaper four miles away in the dead of night. They make the city one of the best and most unusually lighted cities in the world.

When they went up, in 1895, it was thought that local vegetable gardens, basking in strong light during the night as well as the day, would produce mammoth specimens. Local gardeners were disappointed but nocturnal burglars became a very risky business. Riffing a site in the glare of searchlight was out.

Originally there were 31 towers but two have disappeared. One blew down a few years ago in a cyclone. It took 30 ordinary-type street-lights to duplicate its brilliance. I couldn't find out what had happened to the other absentee.

Austin got a 30-piece symphony orchestra together some four years ago. The local Municipal Building was streamlined and doubled in size. Street-paving and broadening hit a new high just before the war. But, being all this progress, the city's need for money badly needed down here, as in many parts of Texas. The yearly pre-war income of more than half the local residents fell below the thousand-dollar mark.

Perhaps the city'd be better off financially if that Capital building had been paid for in sporting Texas as steers instead of all those acres of rich oil lands.

Can Only Best
Canning does not improve the quality of foods no matter what method is used, so it is desirable to use only those which are of good quality when preserved. Food will not spoil up or fungi. Thorough cleaning of vegetables to remove all soil particles; sterilization of jars, lids and rubbers; and processing the food according to directions will reduce the danger of food spoilage.

Copper Increase
Increased output of copper in the other Americas, normally the world's largest exporters of the metal, has contributed to the rising war production of the U.S. Chile, chief producer of copper, has raised production to 405,000 tons from 339,000 tons. Other hemisphere copper producers are Mexico, Peru, Cuba and Bolivia.

*What You Buy With WAR BONDS

5 Ocean Navy

When Pearl Harbor burst upon us our great expanse of territory was protected by a one ocean navy of about 350 first line ships with an addition of an approximate number building.

Now we are in a two ocean war and we are required not only to pay for the building of enough ships of the line but also for hundreds of Liberty ships and auxiliary craft. The amount of money you invested in War Bonds when we had a one ocean navy was all right then, it isn't enough now. Buy more and more War Bonds.
