Victory

both next year. We are expecting a better supply of garden tools and equipment for spraying and weeding. — Victory Garden production should set another new record in 1944.

Points For Home-Canned Foods
The point value of home-canned foods shall be the same as that of the corresponding commercial product, except that no home-canned food shall have a point value of more than eight points per quart or four points per pound. This was announced in a recent OPA amendment.

Synthetic Tire Prices
Maximum prices for synthetic rubber tires and tubes have been established by OPA. In the main, they are the same as ceiling prices for corresponding tires and tubes made from natural rubber.

More Goods For Civilians
Civilians will soon get more cooking utensils, lamps, lanterns, bed springs, innerspring mattresses, non-electric razors, plated silverware, brushes, nails, tacks, boilers, radiators, furnaces, screen cloth, and other kitchen and household articles as a result of a recent WPA directive which reserved a portion of the production of approximately 30 types of products for civilian use. The directive prohibits government agencies from buying goods set aside for civilians.

Consumer Coal Piles Smaller
The amount of coal held in storage by consumers diminished 312,000 tons during July, Harold L. Ickes, Solid Fuels Administrator, reported recently. "We have less coal in storage now than we had a month ago," the Administrator said. "The limitations on production make it uncertain to what extent output can be increased. Consequently it would be wise to conserve coal by all possible means so that there will be enough of it to carry on all essential activities and to keep the public warm." Army Rebuilds Shoes
Approximately six and a half million pairs of army shoes will be rebuilt during the present fiscal year at plants under supervision of the Quartermaster Corps, Army Service Forces, in Buford, Ga., and Hantsburg, Mo. The rebuilding operation in one year will save the government approximately seven million dollars, and will conserve nearly 20 million square feet of leather.

How Good can Beer be during a Shortage?

THAT'S A NATURAL QUESTION AND IT DESERVES A STRAIGHT ANSWER.

With prime ingredients restricted as they are today, a brewer has a near-cut decision to make. He can sacrifice quality through the use of inferior substitutes and maintain his volume . . . or he can keep faith with his customers by supplying them the same quality beer they have learned to enjoy — and sell less beer.

We have given our pledge to you not to change Altes quality. We mean to keep that pledge.

We do this with the full knowledge that we penalize both you and ourselves. You will not be able to get all the Altes you want . . . we will not be able to brew as much Altes as we would like to brew.

We want you to know that not once through all these difficult times will Altes skimp on quality . . . not once will we vary that Aged-in, Sealed-in flavor . . . not once will we fail to properly age every drop of Altes.

The Altes name and reputation . . . its significance of quality to you . . . will not be impaired at any cost.
