

BUY AND STORE PLANT FOOD FOR NEXT YEAR

(By The Master Gardener)

Many Victory gardeners were disappointed last year because they were unable to obtain plant food for their gardens. Naturally yield and quality of produce suffered.

Our government, fertilizer manufacturers and dealers are laying plans and taking every precaution so that every Victory gardener will find Victory garden fertilizer available at his garden supply headquarters, for use on his 1944 Victory garden.

But your cooperation is needed, too. Labor and transportation facilities are big factors in delivery of goods. If the purchasing of plant food is spread over several months rather than packed into a few short weeks, a minimum of labor can move a tremendous quantity of plant food, and if you will store the plant food in a dry place in your home or garage until it is needed this spring, you'll be relieving the dealer's storage facilities. It's pulling together like this that solves our problems and that kind of cooperation is going to bring Victory nearer.

So get that plant food order in to your garden supply dealer, and get the plant food delivered and stored safely in your attic, garage, or other dry storage place, all ready for application when those first spring garden-making days come along.

When you purchase your plant food, how about taking care of some of your Christmas shopping by purchasing a package of plant food for the Victory gardeners on your list—it is a gift always welcomed by gardeners, but particularly appropriate under present conditions.

THIS AND THAT . . .

The prospect of a good time will get almost anybody out of a sick bed.

Widows appear to thrive on a fifth of the income they received as wives.

Let's accept restrictions cheerfully and talk about the blessings we retain.

The priceless ingredient for successful statesmanship, these days is a voice that sounds swell on the radio.

When medicine is socialized who will take care of the women who just want somebody to sit down and talk to them?

Americans who complain of war discomforts can expect no sympathy.

You'd think that women would get tired of being addressed as Honey.

Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity, and truth accomplishes no victories without it.

Our worth is determined by the good deeds we do, rather than by the fine emotions we feel.

Fungus Causes Smut

Corn smut is caused by a fungus which overwinters as spores (the black sooty powder) in the soil or in diseased corn refuse. Certain varieties of early sweet corn are particularly susceptible to smut. Most later varieties are much less susceptible. Experiments have shown that smut boils can be consumed by cattle in large amounts with no ill effects. In some regions, the young smut boils are even eaten by humans.

Be Thankful you don't suffer the horrors, the realities of war right in this country.

Be thankful that all you're asked to do is GIVE!

RISE STEVENS COMES TO DETROIT FOR CONCERT

Rise Stevens, lovely young American star of the Metropolitan Opera Co., was born in New York of Norwegian and American parentage. She began her career at the age of ten as a youthful prima donna on a children's radio program. At 17, she was engaged as leading lady with the Opera Comique at the Heckscher Theatre in New York, where she was heard by the noted teacher, Mme. Anna Schoen-Rene. After study with Mme. Schoen-Rene, Miss Stevens obtained a three year scholarship at the Juillard School of Music. In 1936, she shattered tradition by declining Metropolitan Opera contract on the grounds of insufficient experience. She went abroad for study and training and made her operatic debut at the Prague Opera House in the title role of "Mignon." Success in other roles as well brought her an invitation from Vienna State Opera House to sing leading roles in the Austrian capital. Many other European appearances followed and shortly after she was signed by the Metropolitan Opera as leading mezzo-soprano.

In 1941, she was signed for the films by M.G.M. in a long term starring contract, and made her screen bow opposite Nelson Eddy in "The Chocolate Soldier." Miss Stevens has also made numerous successful recordings for Columbia Recording Corporation.

To music lovers throughout the country, Miss Stevens is known not only as a singer with a beautiful voice and rare artistry but with the "greatest personality of her generation."

Should Be Mature

Sweet potatoes should be well matured before harvesting. This can be determined by breaking a potato and exposing it to the air. If the sap hardens quickly and the surface remains bright in color digging time has arrived. On the other hand if the sap remains sticky and the surface turns dark green the potatoes are not ready for harvesting. Immature potatoes rot quickly in storage.

LOW POINT MEAL FOR CHILLY DAYS

For a square meal in a jiffy, try sizzling pure pork sausage with tender green beans and candied sweet potatoes. Pure pork sausage is an economical point buy, and sweet potatoes are plentiful this fall.

Brookfield Sausage Dinner

Browned Brookfield Sausage (one half pound)
Candied Sweet Potatoes (two large)
Cote Steu
Fruit
Cul Green Beans
Hard Rolls
Cookies

To pan fry pork sausage links, place in a frying pan and add a small amount of water. Cover and steam for 5 minutes, then drain any remaining water. Cook over a slow heat, turning frequently until browned and thoroughly cooked.

One half pound of pure pork sausage is enough for 4 servings and remember that the brand name is your assurance of quality and the best brand requires no more points than others.

Barriers Down — Kent Cooper. This is the story of one of the major achievements of our day—the breaking down of the international news monopoly held until a few years ago by three European news agencies and which was used by them for the spreading of information favorable to the national interests of their respective countries. It is told by Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, the man who after years of effort has seen his dream realized true and unbiased international news, the sources of which are equally available to all.

The state of affairs which he uncovered shocked him deeply and with help from many American publishers he started on his long fight, first to end the monopoly in South America, then in Europe and finally in the Far East. The result is that the whole world has access to true and unbiased news.

The account of this crusade is one of the finest tales of American idealism and resourcefulness. The hope which this accomplishment holds for the future is one of which every American should be aware.

Tuesday Never Comes — Lida Larimore. Caroline Perry was in love with Jay Summerville—had been ever since she could remember. Jay was infatuated with Caroline's older sister, Julia, belle of Queensville, a sleepy Maryland town. In fact, Jay and Julia had become engaged.

But this time-worn lopsided apple cart upset entirely when Scott Mitchell came to Queensville. For Julia fell promptly and completely in love with him and unwittingly brought herself and her family to the brink of disaster.

Their tangled situation was set straight by Caroline's courage and loyalty plus the aid of whimsical, philosophical, Dusty Price, and more than a little straight thinking by Julia herself.

Here is another charming and satisfying story of youth and love told in true Lida Larimore style.

Burma Surgeon—Gordon S. Seagrave, M.D. Here is the full-length story of the American doctor whose life and work are just becoming known to his fellow countrymen through the picture of his dauntless personality portrayed in magazine and newspaper dispatches from the Far East.

Long before World War Two threatened, Dr. Seagrave was carrying on his own war against malaria, dysentery, plague and all manner of bodily disorders. In the North Star States he started his medical mission with a waste basket of broken-down surgical instruments salvaged from John Hopkins. Under his energetic directions, but in the wilderness became modern hospitals, primitive conditions became civilized; simple native girls were trained to be nurses. Then the world and the war came nearer; the Burma Road is built; an airplane factory is built; the Chinese Army calls on the doctor's resources. When the storm breaks over all Burma, Dr. Seagrave is commissioned a major in the Medical Corps. Through days and nights of Japanese bombing, he performs emergency operations amid the flames of burning towns. When the order comes, Dr. Seagrave and his unit join the retreat with General Stilwell, and the book ends with a day by day account of that historic trek through the jungle to India.

Though written in the heat of war, it is a doctor's book about his work and those who helped him in it. It will be widely read and long remembered.

The Small Electron
Electrons, parts of the atom and about the smallest particles of matter known to science, require 30, followed by 27 ciphers, to weigh an ounce. They are so small that three million can rest on the point of a pin. Six, followed by 18 ciphers, electrons flow each second through the filament of a 10-watt incandescent lamp to keep it burning.

HOLIDAY TABLE ARRANGEMENTS TO BE EXHIBITED

The Farmington Garden Club will hold its monthly meeting at the Farmington Town Hall on Monday, November 1, at 2:00 o'clock p.m.

All members are requested to bring Thanksgiving and Christmas table arrangements, which will be judged, with prizes awarded the best arrangements. All who wish to participate in this part of the program are asked to call Mrs. George M. Newlin, at Farmington 280.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Karl G. Ritter will talk on "Unusual Vegetables Grown in Our Garden." She has promised to supply the group with some recipes telling how to prepare and serve these vegetables.

Nutrients in Sink Drain

Too often good nutrients travel down the sink drain because we insist on cooking vegetables in large quantities of water. Frequently they are wasted by too long cooking or cooking at too high temperatures.
