Assembly Line Training

There's no telling who you'll meet on an assembly line these days. The author of eight sophisticated novels is punching a clock in a factory, right along with a woman whose picture used to be on the society page almost every week, the landscape architect with a famous old name, and the widow of a Civil War general.

And so it goes from one end of this busy country to the other. There's nothing "queer" about working in a factory these days. It's "being done," and by the very best people. In fact, it's considered a privilege to rivet or weld or run a punch press or drill, and the girl or woman who puts on slacks, ties her hair up in a bandanna, and goes to it gains in prestige. When she does have a chance to go to a party on her day off she's welcomed almost as cordially as one of the boys back from Sicily!

The day will come when most of the women who've taken up factory work for the duration will be full-time, skirt-wearing homemakers again. But for the rest of their lives they'll be different. They know now from firsthand experience what mass production is, how it's achieved, and what it means to be a part of the creative force known as industry, that is making it possible for the Allies to win this war, and that can give the United States a standard of living higher than ever when the war is won.

They know what it feels like to be an employee—a worker on the production line. But they appreciate as never before the kind of problems with which management must deal to keep things moving ahead and deliver the goods.

Perhaps from this new understanding of women the country over will come valuable help in making American industry more harmonious, smooth-working and productive than ever before. The Allies need all that American men and women and machines can turn out these days, but there will be almost as great a need for peacetime goods when the war is won and "men of good will" start rebuilding a shattered world.

Recruit Workers
In an Illinois county, city workers were recruited in the spring for emergency crop-saving work with the aid of a sound truck, while a second truck followed the sound truck to pick up the recruits.

Hash Mark
In soldier parlance, a "hash mark" is a service stripe worn on the lower part of the left sleeve of the uniform blouse, denoting that the wearer has completed three years' active service.

Onion Storage
Onions may be placed in any storage house that is fairly dry and where the temperature can be kept from going much below freezing. The best temperature for winter onion storage is 35 degrees, for the average freezing point of cured onions is about 39.9 degrees. However, it is better to err on the warm side than to allow onions to become frozen. The storage should also be provided with ventilators to permit cool air to enter and the warm, moist air to escape.

AMERICAN HEROES

The South Pacific Aerial Exploits Cross has been awarded to First Lt. William P. Campbell, U. S. M. C., of Minneapolis for his solo bombing attack against five Jap transports and two destroyers. While ship and shore batteries concentrated all their fire against him, killing the air with the ship formation, he blasted a transport with a direct hit. The War Bond you buy today will help load bomb racks to shatter Jap supply lines.

"Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sunday school. All Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 21.

The Golden Text (1 Corinthians 9:19) is: "Know ye not that you are the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?"

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 8:1,2,4): "How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.223): "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged."

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO (November 22, 1918)
The Best School Record

Six hundred ninety-eight Oakland county children attended the rural schools of the county six months without being absent or tardy during the year ending in June, 1918. Over 300 of these were in attendance for the entire year without missing a day. Farmington Township made the best record in the county, and has been granted an honorary diploma.

Churches Make Survey
A general survey is to be made of the village during the coming week under the combined auspices of all the churches in order that the churches may have an idea of the strength of their forces and with the vital problems of reconstruction which are awaiting the church.

Calls On Buddies
Mrs. Perry Prindle received a letter from her son, Allen, in France, saying that an officer came to him and told him Norman Lee and Hugo Schaeper were in a hospital 20 miles from there and calling for him. He immediately went to see the boys and said they were getting along all right, although Hugo was injured much worse than Norman.

TEN YEARS AGO (November 23, 1923)
Forty Men To Get Jobs
Forty unemployed men of Farmington City and Township are expected to be put to work in the City within the next few days in the federal government's huge Civil Works Administration program to aid employment.

Clothing Will Be Picked Up
Farmington's first organized effort for charity this winter will be undertaken Saturday, when an old-clothes collection will be made throughout Farmington City. The drive will take place under the direction of the newly-organized charity council, co-ordinating all charitable work in the city under one head.

New Carrier Gets Contract
A change will occur Friday of next week in Farmington postoffice personnel when a new carrier will begin transporting mail between Farmington and Redford. Alfred Smith will take over the work formerly done by Benjamin Bundo.

FIVE YEARS AGO (November 17, 1928)
Board Seeks Site For Town Hall
Farmington Township's determination to have a township hall is one step nearer realization as a result of the Board meeting Tuesday night at which it was agreed that members of the Board would try to obtain options on possible sites for the proposed building.

Tax Passed
Plans for the proposed new school building are being pushed as a result of the election last Thursday at which voters of school district number five voted 166 to 8 to approve the levying of a maximum of three percent on property to retire the $45,000 bond issue which will finance the new building in conjunction with a PWA grant of $36,815.

WPA Projects Get More Men
Work on Farmington's WPA projects, construction of the Shawwassee Street sewer and redecoration of the grade school and high school is proceeding faster than at any time in the past two weeks because of the additional men put on the job.

on. The CIO News said that many manufacturers in Detroit "can be morally charged with the murder of thousands of American boys on the battle front because of their failure to convert their plants to war production." Motive of this lack of patriotism, continues the CIO News, was "the mad scramble for dollar profits." This antagonism of labor against industrial management has been accentuated during the past ten years. Today labor demands a larger share of industrial war profits—too often unmindful that its own earnings have increased 33 percent since Pearl Harbor, while corporation profit rose 15 percent according to an October statement by Michigan-born Prentiss M. Brown, retiring OPA administrator. And now for Michigan statistics. We quote from an article in the November issue of Michigan Labor and Industry, written by a General Motors economist: "Since January, 1941, Michigan factory workers' weekly earnings increased 61 percent, and their hourly earnings increased 37 percent." Weekly earnings have increased over twice as fast as

RECONVERSION. That Michigan's postwar reconversion problem will bring the biggest unemployment headache in history is generally conceded. Industry has stripped its plants of peacetime machinery. Restoring the plants to former productivity, plus the expense of renovating equipment and maintaining payrolls, will require plenty of cash. Cash can be provided out of war-time profits or out of the pockets of stockholders. If you believe that stockholders should foot the bill, you will walk right into government-owned earnings have increased 33 percent since Pearl Harbor, while corporation profit rose 15 percent according to an October statement by Michigan-born Prentiss M. Brown, retiring OPA administrator. And now for Michigan statistics. TIED AMERICANS. At the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association conference, in Grand Rapids, the president of the Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island—W. Stewart Woodfill—pre-had weekly expenses."

To Owners of Property In Foreign Countries

The U.S. Treasury is seeking to ascertain as nearly as possible the total American stake all over the world. It believes with this information available that the government's hand will be strengthened on all war fronts, at the peace conferences and in the post-war world-wide economic readjustments.

Under the law, holders of foreign property ARE REQUIRED to file reports of their holdings on Form TFR-500 by DECEMBER 1, 1943.

If you have any foreign investments—dollar bonds, bank balances, real estate or other tangible property—and have not yet filed your report, we would be happy to assist you in obtaining the proper forms.

HATREDS. The racial issue in the Detroit campaign again has led observers to predict that, unless Detroit acts to provide better housing, parks and playgrounds for Negroes, Paradise Valley is apt to be the scene of a repetition of the disgraceful riots of last June. Counter to this remedy, which acknowledges the use of segregation, is an aggressive attitude of Negro leaders—encouraged by Communist propaganda, in part to demand racial equality in housing, parks, schools and other facilities. In other words, mixed occupancy and use, a point which Detroit's southern-born whites will never approve. Hence the emotional clash of prejudices, climaxed by the re-election of Jeffries.

MURDER. To present political issues in un mistaken labels, contrasted as white and black is an old campaign device. The Michigan CIO News simplified the question of the majority campaign by branding Jeffries as a "puppet mayor," a front for the Detroit Board of Commerce whose membership consists of employers—industrialists, capitalists, and so
