Dear Sirs:

I am sorry I haven't written sooner to notify you of my change of address, and also to thank you for the paper. I haven't been receiving it regularly lately but I imagine that's because I have moved so much lately. I have moved to three different sections here in Charleston. I do not expect to be here in Charleston much longer, but then that's what I have been saying ever since December. As they say, "here today and gone tomorrow." That's the way it is in the Army. One day you are one place and gosh know where tomorrow. That is also why I haven't written to thank you for the Christmas box. I thought I'd wait until I moved and send my change of address at the same time. Well anyhow, I'm thanking you now as I sure did appreciate it. Anything from home means a lot to us.

Well I guess that is all for this time. Nothing ever happens in this town. The person who said "there's no place like home" sure knew what he was saying. One year in Charleston has proved that to me. Thanking you again for the paper, I remain,

Yours truly,
/Cpl. Stanley Gliddon.
