THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING

The proof of the pudding may be in the eating, but we reckon that the proof of good will is in the deed.

The Senior Prom is now a pleasant chapter in the history of the Class of '44. It was a very beautiful party to be sure, and is a happy memory for those who came merely to see or to dance, for those who sponsored it, and for those who worked to make it successful. More than this, however, it should become a classic model in our school of genuine cooperation among classes.

Let's look at the scene behind the stage. The seniors did the planning, shouldered financial obligations, worked like war dogs to make it a memorable occasion and working with them were a few students artistically inclined who seldom have the opportunity to express for the public their creative talents. We refer to Leah Herron and Betty Hunt (sophomores), to Sue Goodrich, Al McCurdy, and Bud Lacker (juniors), all of whom gave enthusiastically of their time and ability. Others assisted in placing decorations; juniors posed for some of the murals; home-making girls made a striking display in their case; freshman girls served refreshments.

The senior chairman: Kathleen Tassie (Decorations), Barbara Locker (Refreshments), John Hunt (Publicity), Leonard Rae (Music and Programs), Pat O'Rourke (Tickets), Oscar Aulen (Properties), Fred Kupsky (Trucking), their committee members, and all seniors did a swell job. But the friendly understanding of schoolmates, particularly of that class about to take their place, certainly made a big undertaking easier. Then—to further cement amicable relations, because of the difficulty they had experienced in securing many things needed for decorations, the Seniors gave the Juniors all properties left from the party which might simplify a little their problem next year.

That's team work. We're proud of the examples both classes have set. Such pulling together in what the world would consider a minor affair really made the Prom more than a social achievement. It definitely outside the formal classroom, boys and girls have practiced an important lesson of education. This senior Blue and White staff regards the deed worthy of being respected as a "Must" in F.H.S. traditions.

'TIS SAID . . .

and heard that everyone spent an enjoyable evening at the Hawaiian Shores. We want to thank all the people, outside of the Senior Class, who helped very willingly on our decorations . . . Trying to catch your breath after skimming a car is a great thrill. Boy, Dick, you even scared Jackie into steering for you . . . We wonder what the was? — Goodness the cars were parked in a long row and everything was so quiet! — Lots of flat tires, no doubt . . . Social life is really whirling these weeks of school that are left: the Prom, the Senior-Senior reception, the Senior-Senior Commencement—Golly, kids, do you think we can stand it! —Stella Lookin.

D.A.R. Representative Attends Luncheon

Dorothy Gustafson, the Farmington D.A.R. representative, attended a D.A.R. luncheon Saturday, April 29.

Representatives of this district were unable to attend the State conference last March at Kalamazoo because of a lack of transportation. The luncheon, held at Devon Gables, was a substitute for the conference, and was attended by 11 girls from Milford, Birmingham, Royal Oak and Farmington. Three of this group had met previously when they were delegates to Girls' Wolverine State.

The girls received certificate awards in place of the regular pins which representatives were given in previous years. —Z.L.

F.H.S. Loses First Game 11-1

The Farmington Falcons lost their first game 11-1 to Walled Lake. The game was played at Farmington's sloppy playing thru-out. Walled Lake collected 10 hits off Carley, who pitched the whole game, and Farmington could get only 2 hits off Costy. Farmington's lone run came in the first inning when Bacon opened with a triple to center and scored on AschenBrenners outfield fly. The rest of the game was all Walled Lake, as F.H.S. made only one hit during the remaining 6 innings. The game getting averages of the first 5 highest are as follows: AschenBrenner 429

IT'S A big wash for the duration . . .

give your electric washer this PREFERRED TREATMENT

To help your washer stand up under the big load it faces for the duration, keep in mind these few simple rules:

- (1) Drain washer and rinse tub thoroughly after each washing. Remove agitator or suction cups and rinse.
- (2) Wipe dry with a soft cloth to remove any soap curd or lint that may remain. If your washer has a spinner dryer, this too should be cleaned, rinsed and wiped dry.
- (3) Don't try to force thick, bulky articles through your wringer—and especially don't run through belt buckles or other hard objects that might cut the rolls. They are rubber, and precious!
- (4) Release the pressure on wringer when not in use. This saves the spring and the rubber, and prevents the rolls from becoming flat on one side.
- (5) Don't overload your washer. Cramping in too big a wash simply puts a strain on the motor, and results in a less satisfactory job.
- (6) When you finish washing, dry the wringer thoroughly, also dry the connecting cord and wind it up carefully. Leave cover off washer to prevent it from becoming musty.
