Perhaps they would pre-fer Fry, if they knew more about him. Such is the campaign specu-lation, and time is a big factor.

Certainly the high command of dichigan Republicans do not con-ider that Michigan is in the bag, olitically.

politically.

Starting Sept. 19, Governor Kelly and one or two other party candidates are going to make a 1,300 mile swing of northern Michigan, going as far west as fronvood. Nominee Edward Fry and other Democrats are rolling up their sleeves, too, for a vigorous campaign, hopeful that the voters will lend an ear long enough for presentation of the candidates measures. A third ballet for Nov. 7 will contain four proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Three were sponsored by the state legislature, as follows:

No. 1—Permitting a municipality.

JAP'S LAST STAND

GUAM—Marine Corps Photo—Soundphoto—Armed with hand gre-tades, a fanatical Jap subper boarded this Corsair fighter plane on the Oroto Penthasula ulratrip here, and hid in the fuselage for several hours before exploding the first of two grenades under the feet of the plot, Marine Lt. Lowell E. Wilkerson of St. Marie, Idaho. Strips were hack-ed out of the side of the plane to frisk the dead but still armed Jap hefore his removal. Lt. Wilkerson escaped injury and is shown-shirtless—leaning over the form of his would-be executioner.

Three wore sponsored by the state legislature, as follows:

No. 1—Permitting a municipality to supply and sell water to houses outside the city limits.

No. 2—Permitting state legislator fore to run for state office and still continue as members of the legislature. The present law requires of Louis, Refford Farmington a resignation when a legislator becomes a candidate for state office.

No. 3—Increasing the compensation of state legislators from 45 compensured for the compensured

Shark Meat in Demand Shark meat, with the texture of swordfish and the flavor of haddock, is proving popular in Eastern cities. While they are caught for their oil and skins, the steaks when quick trozen prove a valuable addition to the menu.
