Why Education?

Why is education so important to the American people, both young and old? Because we are free men, and free men enjoy liberty, both civil and political. If we are to retain these liberties, we must take an active interest and part in our educational institution. A passive acceptance of our schools as an American institution will not do, but we must have an honest, genuine desire to know why modern education is more inclusive than it was fifty, or even twenty five years ago.

Education must meet the needs of the time. In fact, it must set the pace and ANTICIPATE the need of the future, and at the same time maintain high standards in the fundamentals of basic subjects. America demands a practical and thoroughly useable education for its people.

Yes, we have had and are having an industrial revolution, and it does not effect just manufacturing. It is effecting the lives of all of us. Agriculture has been mechanized and scientifically carried on. Mechanics have become a social service and not just a business. We no longer deal with just stone, wood and iron in building the world's goods. We have plastics and substitutes for nearly everything man used as every day materials a decade ago. Scientists are telling us of the wonders yet to come.

What then of education, both academic and manipulative? Our young people of today have need of the best in modern education if America is to hold its place in the front ranks of nations. Don't try economy where economy will jeopardize the future of our people, and our country.

If the educational need is urgent in the material field, it is equally urgent in the human relation field. Our people must study the science of human relations; not as theory, but as reality. We talk and write much of labor relations, political science, international problems, and other sciences as if they belonged to someone else, and not to ourselves. Our boys and girls, as well as ones self, must study and realistically understand and practice these modern subjects.

Yes, our schools and education have a challenge to meet, and they need your and my support, not in lip service, but in an interested understanding of the many problems of educational administration.

Our young people must return to their studies, and we must encourage them to do so.

All Must Help

American industry has pledged itself to do everything within its power to produce and distribute better goods in greater volume at lower prices to more people, to make opportunity and jobs available to everyone.

Cooperation within industry, to maintain a high level of peace-time production, will mean millions of jobs for returning G.I.s and continuing employment for workers on the home front.

But it must be remembered that, even in war year, 1944, manufacturing does not employ nearly all the workers in this country. Many are currently in agriculture, construction, transportation, utilities, trade, distribution, finance and the so-called "service" industries, exclusive of the armed forces.

Employment gains in all of these fields must keep pace with industrial expansion after the war.

And there is real opportunity for growth. It is not only more and better washing machines, refrigerators and cars that we want. We want increasingly abundant and nutritious food from our farms, shops where service is prompt, better laundries, better and cheaper transportation, finer recreational facilities, able professional service.

These things must contribute their share to the higher standard of living and the full employment we look for when the war is won.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 1:13): "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (331): "The Scriptures testify that God is All-in-All. Newsworthy quotations from Michigan people in the news:

"I know this is not a personal welcome. Many of you have moved here since I went away. So I know that you must be here because I have the greatest mother in the world, and you came out here simply to pay tribute to her son."—Governor Thomas E. Dewey at Owosso homecoming.

"The Chinese people have had dictators for 3,000 years. They will continue to have them."—Dr. George Shepherd, former personal advisor to General Chiang Kai-shek.

"None of the men I have appointed sought appointment."—Governor Harry F. Kelly in naming Thomas A. Kenny, his legal advisor, and two others to Wayne County judgeships.

"Michigan's liberalized 1913 workmen's compensation law has resulted in twice as speedy payment of claims as the former law."—Mrs. Betty W. Allis, chairman of the State Workmen's Compensation Commission.

"When peace comes, it is not merely a matter of turning off the war spigot and letting the peace spigot run. Without advance planning and preparation, nothing will come out."—C. E. Wilson, president, General Motors Corporation.

"Control of industrial water pollution has lagged sharply during the war. The problem is of special significance in Michigan because of the necessity of safe recreational waters, particularly in proximity to urban and industrial centers where sources of pollution are most numerous."—Milton P. Adams, secretary-engineer of the State Stream Control Commission.

"If carnivals could be limited to such recreational advantages as the rides and clean entertainment, with the elimination of gambling and questionable shows, they might be of some value."—Probate Judge S. H. Clink, Muskegon, after arrest of nine youngsters for juvenile delinquency following one carnival in Muskegon.

"With wages frozen and bonuses prohibited, a retirement pension by management is equivalent to a government-approved salary increase without adding to the recipient's tax liability."—John W. Riegler, director, University of Michigan Bureau of Industrial Relations, commenting on increase of pension programs by Michigan employers.

"The highest obligation of any labor group is to assist in bringing prosperity to the industry of which it is a part. Haas, pioneer in labor relations, addressing Grand Rapids convention of the Industrial Typographical Union.

Newsworthy quotations, important and otherwise:

"Best message I ever had."—Adele McJannet, back from an overseas tour, commenting on his ride in a Jeep.

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO (September 26, 1919)

Comes From Detroit Church
 At the closing session of the Detroit M. E. Conference at Owosso, Rev. E. C. Benson, pastor of the local church the past year was given an "leave of absence" for the coming year, and Rev. Sidney D. Eva was given the Farmington pastorate. Rev. Eva comes here from the Wesley M. E. Church, Detroit, the second largest in the city, where he has been assistant pastor.

Narrow Escape For Buildings

During the storm of last Friday two limbs about eight inches in circumference broke off a large poplar tree in the rear of the residence of the Misses Nelson, on Grand River Avenue, and came near demolishing the house and store. Luckily the wind was just right to take the limb between the two buildings, where the greatest damage was the tearing out of the electric line wires.

Makes Slow Recovery

Meredith Steele, who was thrown from the Harger pony and had his arm broken a few weeks ago, is having quite a serious time. The fracture did not knit as it should and he was taken to a physician in Detroit, where the member has been broken over twice, and now it seems that he will still have to have other treatment.

TEN YEARS AGO (October 4, 1934)

Three Robberies in Six Days Arouse City

A series of three robberies, all of which have occurred in less than a week, has aroused citizens and law enforcement authorities in Farmington. All the robberies have happened in early morning hours and in each instance a business place was the victim. The Otis Service Station, the Otis Russell Garage and Gus Pappas' Victory Restaurant were the three victims.

Heads City Committee

Carl G. Hogle was this week appointed chairman of the Federal Home Improvement Program committee of Farmington by Farmington City Commission. Late in June of this year Mr. Hogle was named chairman of a survey committee for the Farmington area which was sponsored by the National Federation of Builders Supply Associations.

Give Farewell Party

On behalf of the choir Norman Barrens presented Mrs. Boucher with a white alabaster lamp. Mrs. Boucher has been the pianist for the M. E. church for over six years.

Control Nausea

"Many a pregnant woman thinks she should stop eating if she is nauseated. This is often the worst thing she could do. It is likely to increase her discomfort and to deprive both herself and child of much-needed nutrients. If she will take hot milk or milk and coffee and crackers before getting up, she will eat more often than three times a day, and if she will drink hot milk or egg-nog and eat crackers before she retires, probably she will be able to control the nausea."

Good Posture

"Practice good posture while you sweep. Stand upright, with your weight on the balls of the feet. To prevent stooping, use a long-handled dust pan to take up the dust. Hang up the broom and dust pan when you have finished."
