Praise The Lord - - - And Pass The Sanitation

'ROUND THE GLOBE... Hitler's "total war" is catching up with him at last. Already historians are sharpening pencils, preparing to write tomorrow's history books. When they are completed, there will be conflicting reasons for the Axis' unconditional surrender. Only Tomorrow can accurately write the story of Today.

But when that story is finally written, one of the vital factors in the United Nations' victory will be the amazing story of all-out health and sanitation, unprecedented in former wars and responsible in this one for the first epidemic-less war in the chronicles of man.

The story of health and sanitation in this great-est of all human conflicts is a tale of immunization, medication and sanitation. How important a part immunization plays in this global strife is best exemplified in inter-continental flights, itself a vital factor in Allied strategy. This has been carried so far by airlines that this measure of protection has transcended ordinary military precaution and now includes wholesale immunization of transient civilians and soldiers alike. It is because of this that, despite daily flights into the sub-equatorial areas of the world, no epidemic has been returned to these shores. Such a high standard of protection was born of this war, and will be commonplace in the air travel of tomorrow.

Likewise, our government, faced with shortages of vital medication resulting from Japanese seizure of Far Eastern sources of supply, and with the need for discovering effective medicaments for our Armed Forces, has developed such substitutes as atabrine, a drug substitute for quinine, which has materially reduced the ravages of malaria among our South Pacific fighters. In the same way, the war has resulted in a stepped-up production of the miracle drug, Penicillin, as well as the various Sulpha and other drugs. These are but a few of the strides taken by the United States, resulting from this war, but already earmarked for an important role in the postwar years to come.

Of no less importance is the story of modern sanitation, as exemplified by the heretofore simple paper cup. Today that paper cup is pressed in full war regalia and fighting as determined and as essential a battle for human salvation as do our bayonets, planes and shells.

Because the federal government recognized the importance of utmost sanitation in this war crisis, such modern instruments of sanitation as the paper cup were almost immediately pressed into war-time service and rationed by the War Production Board, so that the Armed Forces particularly could receive unlimited quantities. The War Manpower Commission, too, concerned over the needed production, declared the industry as "essential." Our servicemen rightfully were the first concern of an America at war.

Realizing that the Home Front also played a vital part in the victory to come, WPB extended such priority to take in essential war workers, the vital transportation industry, hospitals, and canteens catering to servicemen and their families. A civilian nation, acclimated to the use of paper cups and other high standards of sanitation, acquiesced almost as one in setting aside its own needs for the duration. Likewise, the paper cup industry went on a 24-hour-a-day schedule in a truly American effort to turn out the supplies required for the priority-listed categories. It was only through the all-out cooperation of the great American public and the paper cup and container industry that it became possible to supply the needs of millions of Home Front and War Front soldiers, as well as the needs of the millions of our Allies.

There is no Congressional Medal of Honor for gallantry above and beyond the call of duty for the men and women who have made possible these high standards of immunization, medication and sanitation, but there is the everlasting gratitude of the soldiers on every front, who will have realized victory through such efforts as these.

MacARTHUR'S PROMISE KEPT

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
 New High School Auditorium
 Farmington

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 29.

The Golden Text (Lamentations 3:29,40) is: "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ezekiel 18:21): "But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed and keep all my statutes, he shall surely live, he shall not die." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: "We acknowledge God's forgiveness of sin in the destruction of sin and the spiritual understanding that casts out evil as unreal. But the belief in sin is punished so long as the belief lasts."

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

Made by Arabs
 The first sulphuric acid is believed to have been made some 12 centuries ago by Arab chemists. The earliest trickle of production in the United States began in 1793.

Permit Circulation
 Place jar carefully on rack on bottom of canner, spacing them to permit circulation of steam or hot water around them.

As a Michigan commentator who is limited in the field of politics to non-partisan observations, we have been watching for some time the efforts of the Michigan CIO sponsored Political Action Committee to swing the urban CIO vote to Roosevelt and Fry.

Here is definitely something new to the Michigan scene. Not that labor organizations have not plumped previous candidates for their leaders have. But not until 1934 has any labor group in Michigan engaged so actively in the field of politics with an aggressive campaign to get out the vote on Nov. 7 and to put over certain favored candidates.

In fact, the CIO prominence in the Democratic camp is a matter of considerable speculation among Michigan Democrats as well as Republicans. They are all wondering what may be next.

What is the Political Action Committee? It had its origin at Cleveland in March, 1933. CIO President Philip Murray invited 200 key leaders to consider the problems of the rising cost of living, the threatened swing to the right at Washington and elsewhere, and the possibility of post-war reprisals by industrial managers weary over labor troubles.

Fattened wages had made labor a bit complacent. Workers no longer listened to the appeals of business agents and organizers with usual attentiveness. Murray and others frankly felt the need for a pressure agency which would express the workers' views and represent their interests in the field of politics, much as the unions speak for workers with usual attentiveness. Sidney Hillman was named chairman.

Here was a legal way to circumvent the restrictions of the Smith-Connally act which barred contributions to political parties by unions. The PAC would do it. Politics would be the words of the hour.

First objectives were the national and state conventions of the Democratic party. The CIO committee in mid-May of this year openly pledged support to the

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

TEN YEARS AGO (November 8, 1934)

Farmington State Republican
 Voters of Farmington City continued a tradition of long standing Tuesday when, in an unusually heavy off-year election, they gave Republican candidates for County, State and National offices substantial majorities. Farmington Township differed widely in the view of its electors, the first precinct paralleling the results of Farmington City, while in most instances the final count in the second precinct favored Democratic candidates.

Edison Begins Five Year Program
 An intensive program of educating the people in the proper use of light is being conducted by the Detroit Edison Company. The program may last five years, Earl Grosvenor, Farmington, the manager, said. The Edison Company has engaged the cooperation of eye specialists and a wealth of data has been accumulated by the company to guide its experts in a drive to improve the lighting facilities of its patrons.

Welfare Activities Endangered
 Faced with a rapidly increasing welfare load which may reach 10,000 by December 1, and at the same time notified that the cash allotment to Oakland County for welfare purposes will be about 29 per cent under estimated needs for November, the Oakland County Emergency Welfare Relief Commission notified all County and City officials this week that "drastic" action must be taken.

FIVE YEARS AGO (October 26, 1939)

Halloween Parties Plans Completed
 Farmington children of all ages are invited to come and bring their parents to the big Halloween party to be staged at the high school athletic field Tuesday evening, October 31. The party is to be sponsored by the Kiwanis and Exchange clubs, the Parent-Teachers Association, and the American Legion. There will be entertainment, games, contests, a costume parade and plenty of eats, the committee promises.

Clean-Up Campaign Supported By Merchants
 This week is clean-up week in Farmington, and all residents are urged to cooperate in keeping the city clean. The campaign should not be limited to the city streets and sidewalks, however, but should be carried into every home. In line with the clean-up idea, the Farmington merchants are helping in every way to improve the city and to bring greater benefits to its residents.

Red Cross Roll Call To Begin
 The annual Red Cross Roll Call will get under way this week and next in Farmington, with a community-wide drive for membership. The local unit, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph DeVriendt, chairman, will be aided by members of the Boy Scout Troops in making their drive.

Deal.
 Recent polls of the Detroit News again emphasize the likelihood that Detroit's tremendous urban vote will swing heavily toward the Democratic column. If the Republicans are to counterbalance it, they must get out the vote in up-state counties.

The two separate ballots—one for president and vice-president, and the second for the governor and others including Congressmen—offer another factor in 1941 which may "put Kelly ahead of Dewey in the final tally. Another complication is the fact that in about 35 counties the Democrats have no county ticket. Thus a lack of ballot interest may tend to keep Republicans at home in areas which are predominantly Republican, while the CIO Political Action Committee swells the Democratic vote in centers which are apt to go Democratic.

As an observer studies the 1911 scene, he can find no logical reasons for believing that as a nation we are due for a sharp swing to the right—towards so-called conservatism, old-time capitalism, uncontrolled free enterprise—call the "right" whatever you may want to call it.

At San Francisco on Sept. 21, G.O.P. Nominee Dewey declared that "we are not going back to the days of unregulated business and finance. We are not going back to the days of unprotected farm prices... to the leaf-raking and the dole." He said government control was necessary, favored a peacetime economy half-way between regimentation and uncontrolled business.

On the following day (Sept. 22) Dewey favored an extension of "old-age pensions and survivors' insurance" (Continued on Page Seven)

That the Political Action Committee has been successful in getting a heavy registration of voters in urban centers is being freely conceded.

It points to a basic strategy in the Michigan Democratic Party: To concentrate on the industrial centers where reside the so-called "low income" group which has been the backbone of the New
