insurance to farmers; domestic workers, government workers and self-employed; extension of unemployment compensation to similar groups; and assurance of medical service to those who cannot afford it. He pledged retention of collective bargaining and other rights of the workers.

It seems significant to us that every representative public opinion survey in recent years has repeatedly affirmed the public's favor of freedom from want by old-age pensions, job insurance, health insurance and even aid for students.

The conservative may snort and call it "communism," but the fact still stands that the American people ple—as tested by accurate polls—is not going to the right in terms of opposition to social benefits. Even Dewey's declarations add weight to this trend.

More benefits—not less—are on the horizon.

The question is more as follows: How much to the left shall we go?

Voters will furnish the answer to a large degree on Nov. 7.

METHODIST CHOR INVITED TO SING AT FESTIVAL

Invitations have been issued to all 59 parishes in the Ann Arbor District of the Methodist Church to send their choirs to participate in the Fourth Annual District Choir Festival, to be held in Ann Arbor, Sunday evening, November 26, at 7:30 p.m. Hardin Van Deusen, festival director, announced today.

The event, sponsored by District Superintendent Luther B. Butt of Ypsilanti, brings together a united chorus of approximately 350 singers. Worth Mallory, also of Ypsilanti, is assistant director.

The affair is open to the public and will be held in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church of Ann Arbor.

The Ralph Gallagers, Sr. have broken ground for their new home on Rensselaer.

The young Honaker girl on St. Francis, who had a bad eye injury last week, is improving and her eye will perhaps be only partially affected.

At the committee meeting of Boy Scouts held last Wednesday at the High School it was agreed to form a second troop, CL 2, with Axel Rutla as leader.

Events at the Methodist Church are many. The Youth Fellowship held a banquet for their membership on Friday night, October 7. Last week the junior boys from seven years of age up, were organized as a special group, while the junior girls already have their own group.

Invasion Scene, Act II

Yesterday was Act I.

Same beachhead scene. Same — except today there are screaming bombs, no burning tanks, no convulsive shells tearing big holes in the ground. Same scene, but today the guys up there on the beach put on the show.

They're ready for Act II. They've pushed the enemy back a few miles. Here comes Act II. Here comes the U.S.O. Camp Show!

Our guys need this show. They need it desperately, like starving men need food. For an hour or two they'll go back to America... back to Broadway, Hollywood, Main Street... back a thousand miles from this beachhead. They need to laugh, to forget.

They need it, understand?

Thanks to the folks back home, U.S.O. Camp Show units have played in every combat zone, often immediately behind the front lines. More than 90 units are playing the "Foxhole"; more than 80 units appear regularly at camps and hospitals in the western hemisphere.

It costs money to operate the world's biggest theatrical circuit. Even though most stage and screen stars donate their services without charge, it still costs a lot of money to send hundreds of their performers. Every cent must come from part of the money you give to your local community drive.

Your gift helps your neighbors at home, too! Local services supported by this one drive include family and child welfare work, hospital and clinical projects, settlement work, maternity care of wives of servicemen, day care for children of war workers.

Give once for all these. There are many war needs to cover. Give now—at least a day's pay. Give all you can!

Ordinary Gas Meter Takes the Place of $6,000 Test Machine

When the production of pressurized cabins for the B-29 Superfortress, the Army Air Forces biggest and newest air craft, was threatened recently at the Hudson Motor Car Company, Detroit, because they were unable to obtain immediate delivery of a $6,000 testing apparatus, an engineer with the company solved the problem by employing an ordinary gas meter. A meter similar to many in use throughout our gas properties was obtained and when it was hooked up with hose connections and recording devices, it provided so accurate that no further efforts are being made by the company to obtain the special $6,000 machines formerly used.

Here is an excellent example of how ingenuity is saving time and money and speeding production of war materials for the Army, Navy and Air Forces.

The production methods devised by Hudson Motor Car Company engineers in building three important fuselage sections which comprise nearly half of the 98-foot length of the new Boeing B-29 Superfortresses, are being studied by Army Air Forces to speed production and reduce costs in other plants.
