Thanksgiving 🕛

On Thanksgiving Day of this year, every citizen of these United States can thoughtfully and truth-fully say: "Of all my blessings, I am most thankful that I am an American.

Throughout the length and breadth of our na-tion, millions, and millions of humble citizens will re-reat this heartfelt sentiment. And well we may, for our blessings are abundant

Americans have much for which to be thankful. On all fronts our brave fighting men are pushing the enemy back into his lair. Our casualties are far lighter than anticipated, and the wounded are being aghter than anticipated, and the wounded are being "estored to health and fitness at a rate almost be-yond belief. Instead of a scarcity, we enjoy a sur-plus of necessary foods, and our banks are bulging with the savings of farmers and working men. Our cities and homes have not been riddled with bombs. Our people are free and our shores and skies are safe from attack safe from attack.

God has been kind to America, so when you offer thanks unto Him on Thanksgiving Day, repeat these heartfelt words, "Of all my blessings, I am most thankful that I am an American."

Unity

The day which many Americans had marked time has one of the most important days for some time has come and gone. That day was Tuesday, November 7, war-time election day.

That day was preceded by a period of intense campaigning, not only by the candidates but by thousands of interested individuals all over this country. It was a period of heated arguments, of vigorous activity and honest effort. It tried even the best of us, in one way or another.

And thus it is with a feeling of relief that we realize election day has passed. The differences we may have felt during those campaign days no longer have any part in our life.

The people have spoken — people all the way from Maine to California. Their voices have given President Roosevelt a fourth term as president of these United States.

Now that that decision has been reached, our individual feelings have been disregarded and unity prevails. We have but one thought and one purpose and that is to end this war as speedily as possible.

With everyone putting forth his every effort toward that end we'll find complete victory in sight long before the pessimistic forecasters think it hu-manly possible.

Second Summer

Are we to have an Indian Summer this year? Or have we already had one and missed it in our or nave we arready had one and musded it in our excitement over the war, the peace and the elec-tions? The maples that turn rosy have already shed their luminous but fragile garments. The maples that turn yellow are clinging to their last shreds of glory. The frost has been on—and off—the pump-nins on alternate days. Yes, there's even been a week of warm weather at a time.

But where are the Indian Summer headlines of er years? What has become of the debate as to other years? when the season-between seasons comes and goes? Can it be—but no; there are even imaginations so distorted as to speculate about what would happen on the morning that the suburban bus fails to run never happens, and Indian Summer always comes along, sooner or later.

Slight Watering Slight watering of dry gardens is practically useless. The explanation is that when the ground has be-come so dry :s to break the moisture dim between the fine particles of soil in the sub-surface layers, water will not penet-at. until these mois-ture films are restablished.

Tomalo Vitamins Tomatos are bigh in vitamin A. Although vitamin values will vary, one mediumsmall tomato, or one five-ounce glass of tomato julce will supply about one-third, of the day's requirement of vitamin C for an adult and about one-fifth of his vita-min A needs.
