

Mild Cases
For every patient showing infantile paralysis there may be ten or even 100 or more milder cases with no paralysis. These cases naturally are not among those reported to local health officers.

First Stockings
The French were the first to attempt to make a stocking of any kind, and in the seventh century their men were wearing leather encasings for purposes of warmth and protection.

CHRISTMAS SEALS DISTRIBUTED NEXT WEEK

"D-Day" for what may well be the most vital tuberculosis Christmas seal sale in Michigan's history began Monday, November 27. According to Curtis M. Wylie, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, the theme of the campaign is: "This is a War to Save Lives."

Many local residents received their seals in the mail Monday and all are requested to make their returns as soon as possible out of consideration for our post office. Although the safe to support tuberculosis control work lasts until Christmas, it will be a great help to postal employees if returns are made before the big Christmas rush of mail logins.

Mr. Wylie stated that for the first time in recent years the tuberculosis death rate in Michigan is increasing. "An intensive educational and case finding program," he said, "must be carried out to stop this war-caused increase." The association's work is made possible by the seal sale. Mr. Wylie pointed out in urging all Michigan citizens to buy and use tuberculosis Christmas seals: "You are fighting for your own home," he said, "when you join in the war to save lives."

Brired Beans
When brired beans are served, they will have an acid, salty flavor of their own. They should be drained and cooked with unsalted vegetables, or, if used separately, rinsed well and boiled 15 minutes or until tender in fresh water. For a less acid flavor, the beans may be soaked in cold water for a short time before cooking.

DETROIT EDISON LINES

Timely items of interest and value... helpful suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances.

ON THE NOSE... "As accurate as a fine watch" has long been a standard phrase to describe utmost accuracy. Yet an electric clock compares favorably with the finest watch. It is never more than a few seconds off—and even this small variation corrects itself, so that there is no accumulated error over a period of time. The huge turbo-generators in Edison power-houses turn in exact unison with one another, and synchronous electric clocks follow the generators. One cent a week operates an electric clock.

99.997% IS PRETTY GOOD... One of our employees thoughtlessly took his vacation last summer in a town not served by the Edison Company. His faith in electric clocks remained serene until he had the sad experience of walking into church one Sunday about a half-hour late. He discovered that his clock had lost a half-hour while the power was shut off—and it was off twice more in two weeks. Naturally, these interruptions reminded him that Detroit Edison's record of "power on" is 99.997 per cent in cities—and only slightly less in the country, at the end of long rural lines. Detroit Edison customers are so accustomed to good service that they look upon it as a matter of course. People notice the electricity supply only when it is bad! We accept the fact philosophically.

FROM MICHIGAN ORCHARDS... With our orchards pouring forth their autumn treasure, here is a timely recipe from our Home Service Department:

Honey Apple Crisp

4 cups sliced apples 1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup sugar 1/4 tsp. salt
1 tbsp. lemon juice 1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup all-purpose 1/4 cup vanilla (if desired)
1/2 cup enriched flour 1/2 cup honey

Spread sliced apples in a shallow baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice, and pour honey over all. In a bowl, mix flour, brown sugar and salt, and work in the butter as for biscuits, making a crumbly mixture. Spread this crumbly mixture over the apples and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for 30 to 40 minutes, or until apples are tender and the crust is crisply browned. Serve warm, with coffee or cream.

Don't waste electricity during the coal shortage

KEEPING COOL... Lubrication of moving parts is the function of oil, most of us would say—thinking of automobiles and other machinery which operates more smoothly because of oil. But oil performs other equally important functions. Oil cools and insulates, and The Detroit Edison Company uses many thousands of gallons for those purposes. Oil provides the necessary insulation in switches and circuit breakers, for example, and the transformer on top of the pole near your home is filled with oil, although the transformer has not a single moving part.
