

Sports Accidents

A survey made by an insurance company reveals that, during the last five years, the number of accidents under the class of sports and recreation amounts to only 6 per cent of the overall total. Of this small number, fishing accidents account for 2.7 per cent and hunting 3.3 per cent. In contrast with this, the report gives the following: baseball 9.2 per cent, golf 6.9 per cent, horseback riding 6.5 per cent, winter sports 9.7 per cent, tennis and squash 6.4 per cent and skating 5 per cent.

Remove Shoes

It is customary for Japanese males to remove their shoes before eating meals. They are never embarrassed by holes in their socks, since they carry an extra one which they pull over the worn-out sock with oriental calm.

Sulphuric Acid

Chemically, sulphuric acid is H_2SO_4 , which means that it is made up of two atoms of hydrogen, one of sulphur, and four of oxygen. It does not occur in nature.

was governor, he had a commission bill introduced in the house. Unfortunately, farm groups had not been fully consulted. A Detroit legislator, serving as floor leader, sponsored the measure. The combination was not conducive to favorable action.

Rep. Maurice Post of Rockford introduced a bill whereby the state department would be supervised by the state board of agriculture, the governing body originally created for the old Michigan Agricultural College, now Michigan State College.

Mrs. Dora Stockman, editor of the Michigan State Grange publication, introduced a bill to have the commissioner of agriculture elected by the people. She felt that the commissioner should be a member of the state administrative board.

With three conflicting bills before them, legislators could not make up their minds. And when the next administration took office at Lansing, a new commissioner of agriculture arrived to look over the problems and see what should be done.

In the 1943 session of the legislature, the Michigan State Farm Bureau supported a house bill, introduced jointly by Representatives Rodestler and Town, which would have created a bipartisan commission consisting of five members.

The term of office was six years. Of the members first appointed by the governor, two were to serve two years, two for four years and two for six years. The commissioners were to choose their own chairman and secretary, and would meet monthly to consider matters of administrative policy.

As in the case of the conservation commission, the agricultural board would employ a permanent director of agriculture. The 1943 bill provided a salary of $7,000 a year.

Compensation of the commissioners would be limited to $15 a day with a maximum of $225 a year.

Stanley Powell, legislative counsel for farm bureau, reports that the 1943 bill was received with general favor by state legislators.

However, legislation was being limited generally to war-time matters and action on the bill was delayed so late in the session that its sponsors decided to await a more opportune time.

This particular legislative reform is favored by Mr. Powell for several reasons. His father, Herbert E. Powell of Ionia, served as commissioner of agriculture for three terms from 1927 to 1932. And it was the elder Powell's conviction, at the conclusion of this service, that Michigan agriculture would be better off under a bipartisan commission than under the prevalent political turnover.

While civil service removed inefficiency of patronage, the commissioner still holds office at the will of the governor. That subjects the commissioner to pressure from the governor himself and also from the governor's office. Such pressure may be good; it may be bad.

That the Michigan State Farm Bureau again will advocate this reform during the 1945 session of state legislature is taken for granted by Mr. Powell, its legislative counsel. Michigan legislators will not have to go far to study a bipartisan commission. Wisconsin adopted this system a number of years ago and the farmers there are said to be thoroughly in accord with it.

Chlorophyll for Healing
A Swiss woman doctor has demonstrated that a saline containing chlorophyll, the green coloring matter in plants, brings about a quicker and better healing of flesh wounds, she reports in "Fraxis," Bern. The molecule of chlorophyll bears a close structural relationship to that of hemoglobin, the red coloring matter in the blood. The former has a magnesium atom at the center of a four-cornered structure and the latter has an iron atom in this position.

CONCRETE TIDDIWINKS To concrete iron and steel for the war, the Detroit Edison Under-ground-Lines Department now builds manhole covers of reinforced concrete, a filled-in spider web of steel. The concrete covers substitute successfully for the all-metal covers formerly used, and stand up well under heavy traffic loads. Each concrete cover represents a saving of about 150 pounds of iron and steel.

NECESSARY EVIL... Paper work we have always with us. But the mass planning of war swells paper work to a flood tide, and the extra work behind the scenes sometimes reaches a fantastic amount. In order to get the required materials to serve our customers, Detroit Edison has had to file 12,111 individual applications with the WPB. The thousands of restrictive orders caused by the war require a reference set of 17 volumes to keep the Company up to date.

APPLE TREAT... Our Home Service Department invites you to try this tempting dish:

Apple Oatmeal Crumble
4 large cooking apples 1/4 tsp. soda
1/2 cup dark corn syrup 1/4 tsp. salt
6 tbsps. shortening 1/2 cup finely ground oatmeal
1/2 cup all-purpose enriched flour

Grease a two-quart casserole. Peel and slice apples very thin, and place in casserole. Cover with syrup. Combine flour, oatmeal, soda and salt, and either cut or rub in the shortening. Sprinkle over mixture in casserole. Put down very lightly. Bake in preheated 350° F. oven for 40 minutes. Serve hot or cold with cream or top milk.

You save coal, transportation and manpower when you save electricity

TURN OFF THAT LIGHT!... Detroit Edison street lighting is usually furnished to communities at a fixed annual rate. If you occasionally notice street lights burning in the daytime, this is done so that patrol men can check for burned-out lamps. On dark winter mornings, we keep street lights on somewhat longer than usual, as an added protection for children going to school. There is no charge for the extra electricity used in either of these cases.
