Define Small Business
The department of commerce reckons a small business as one having a yearly net sales of less than $50,000. A wholesaler with annual net turnover of less than $200,000 is small business. A manufacturer employing less than 100 persons falls into the same class. James Jones painted the picture, stating: "Over nine-tenths of all business concerns in the country are small, and these nine-tenths account for 45 per cent of the workers employed, and for 34 per cent of the business in dollar volume."

Still Goodly Number Of Unrationed Foods While the over-all food rationing program has been tightened by restoration of point values to five vegetables and application of points to 85 per cent of the total supply, there remain a substantial number of foods for which rationing points are not needed, staples O.P.A. All frozen and dried fruits and vegetables, fruit spreads, lard, soups, baked beans, and baby foods—along with fresh fruits and vegetables, cereals, eggs, poultry and fish—are unrationed. In the meat list no point value is attached to beef hearts, sweetbreads and beef tongue; lamb is unrationed on such cuts as breast and flank, shanks of all grades, patties, steaks, chops and roasts in utility grade, hearts, liver, sweetbreads and tongue; all grades of smutton are point-free; veal is unrationed in such classes of cuts as breast, flank meat, neck, shank and heel meat of all grades in utility grade and lower for steaks, chops and roasts, and also hearts, sweetbreads and tongue. No points are needed to buy pork fat backs, clear plates, hocks, knuckles, regular plates and bacon ends, hearts, liver and tongue. A number of sausage types are also on the no point list.

Fuel Oil Warning Issued

Cold homes later on this winter, with no extra rations available, will be the inevitable result of present overconsumption of fuel oil, O.P.A. warns. The request to conserve supplies came from the rationing agency following widespread indications that many householders have dipped too heavily into their fuel oil rations and are burning oil, at a rate considerably in excess of what they should have used up to the present point of the 1944-45 season.

Maple Syrup Cake

1 egg 2 tbsps. melted shortening
1 cup maple syrup 1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 cup milk 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla 1 1/2 tbsps. baking powder

Beat the egg thoroughly; add the maple syrup, then the milk, vanilla, melted shortening, and lastly the dry ingredients sifted together. Beat thoroughly and bake about 45 minutes in a moderate oven—375° F.—in a deep foot-cake pan, preferably of the tube variety. Frost with maple frosting and decorate with halved walnuts or pecans, or sprinkle chopped nuts over the frosting before it sets.

OUT OF MIND: Because house wiring is buried in the walls, out of sight, it is usually "out of mind"—and little understood. But don't think it isn't important! It carries the "life blood" of the modern home—the flow of electricity. And just as a too-small pipe can lessen the flow of water in your plumbing, so can a too-small wire choke off the flow of electricity. Don't deny yourself enjoyment of dozens of postwar electric appliances because of inadequate house wiring. If you are planning a new home, be sure your wiring is large enough to allow full use of tomorrow's electrical living.

SEVEN STORIES OF STEAM: To make the steam that drives the turbines in Edison power plants, huge steam generators are used—each one as high as a seven-story building. One such generator gulps 17 tons of coal and 40,000 gallons of water per hour.

Harshbarger, Director of Selective Service, by the Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion, James F. Byrnes. Pointing out that the Tydings Amendment to the Selective Service Act does not give the agricultural worker absolute exemption and was not intended to, Director Byrnes states—"The Secretaries of War and Navy have advised me jointly that the calls from the army and Navy to be met in the coming year will exhaust the eligibles in the 18 and 25 year age group at an early date. The army and navy believe it essential to the effective prosecution of the war to induct more men in this age group... other than the men becoming 18 years of age the only remaining substantial source in this age group is in the 364,000 men now deferred because of agricultural occupation. Apple Storage

Apples, previous to harvest, receive a continuous supply of food materials from the trees, a part of which is used for growth and a part stored in the tissues. These materials accumulate at different rates until the fruit is mature. The function of cold storage in holding fruit in its fresh state is not to stop the life processes, but only to reduce the rate at which they take place. In general, apples will keep about 25 per cent longer at 30 degrees than at 32 degrees F.
