

SGT. HARRY ROWE AND MISS DEMURA ARE MARRIED

Sergeant Harry Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rowe of Power Avenue, and Miss Rose Lynn DeMura of Sterling, Michigan, were united in marriage at a double-ring ceremony Saturday afternoon, February 25. Rev. Lovejoy performed the wedding in the Methodist Church at Standish, Michigan.

The bride wore a gown of white lace, with flange-trimmed veil, and carried a bouquet of orchids and roses.

Her sisters, Mary Ann DeMura of Dearborn, Nellie DeMura of Sterling, and the groom's sister, Margorie Rowe, were her attendants. They wore suits of blue.

orchid and peach net, and carried pink and white roses.

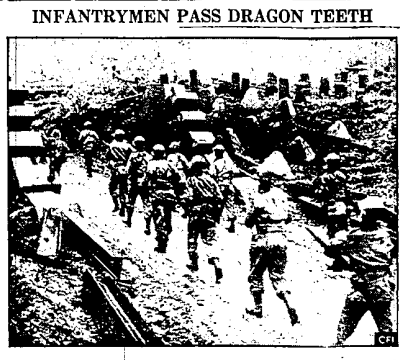

The groom was attended by Robert Geotichus of Detroit, Calvin Wiley of Midland, and another friend from Sterling.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. DeMura wore navy blue, as did the groom's mother. Both wore corsages of pink and white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Rowe is a teacher in the Midland Schools. Sergeant Rowe is on furlough, but will return shortly to his station at Camp Gruber, Oklahoma. He has been in service for three and a half years, and has spent two and a half years of that time overseas, in the Panama area.

is keeping me busy and the weather is quite agreeable. Noticed forsythia in bloom yesterday, and the lawns are beginning to "green" up. I saw a lawn mower in use Saturday.

Essentially enjoy news of my buddies in the service. Thanks a lot for keeping me on the gift list. I'm looking forward to walking down Farmington Road in the near future.

Very truly yours,

Service Notes

Felicity Elizabeth Stevens, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stevens of 1847 St. Francis Avenue, was sworn into the Women's Army Corps as a Private on February 25, 1945, under the new WAC Medical Technician Training Program. Private Stevens attended Farmington High School and was formerly employed at Chrysler Corporation. She has a brother, Corporal William Stevens, stationed at Camp Bowie, Texas. WAC Pvt. Stevens leaves in March for basic training at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

Private Leo P. Caullizo is now located somewhere in Belgium, with a tank outfit.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Buton have received word from their son, Lt. Virgil Buton, USNR, who is an officer of the guard on a liberty ship, that he has safely arrived at port, somewhere in France.

Private Henry J. Sizeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Sizeland, has recently been assigned to an installation of the First Troop Carrier Command at Sedalia Army Air Field, Warrensburg, Missouri. His wife, the former Donelda Faith Casagnette, is a native of Canada, now residing in Farmington. Before entering the Army Air Forces he was employed by the Evans Products Company and previously attended Farmington High School.

I've been in El Centro. The reason I make this statement is that I have had my wife and baby with me ever since I've been here.

Now to finish I'll endeavor to get back to what this letter was meant to say. I want to thank you very much for sending the Enterprise each week. My wife and I really enjoy reading about the people we know, and also your paper keeps me informed on the doings of Farmington.

Once again I say thank you. And I hereby resolve to write more often.

Respectfully yours,
Pfc Robert W. Craig.

Dear Enterprise:

This is my first letter to you since I entered the service, which was about nine months ago. I have been receiving your paper regularly since then and I can easily see why all the fellows praise the swell job you are doing. I couldn't tell you anything the other fellows haven't told you in regard to the Enterprise, but what they say goes double for me. It was purely negligence on my part for not writing sooner.

I'd like to tell you a little of what I've been doing since I've been in the Air Corps. I took basic at Sheppard Field for six weeks and then was shipped to Blackland Field in Waco, Texas, where I entered the cadet program. I was there five months, coming to this field where I'm at now the fourth of January. We have been waiting to go to pre-flight in San Antonio, but the schools are so crowded there isn't room.

We have been something like a "jack of all trades" during our long wait. Sometimes we wonder if we'll ever reach pre-flight. We were sent to Scott Field here to replace the permanent party of men who have been transferred to the infantry. Several groups of cadets came here from different fields and we were all assigned to various jobs scattered all over the field. Some are M.P.'s, printers and guards. A few of the unlucky ones were put in the mess flights as K.P. pushers. I'm working in the administrative building handling service records in the personnel office.

We expect to be here until summer when we'll be shipped to Texas. They send us south for the summer and north for the winter. That's the army for you.

Scott is only 24 miles from St. Louis and there's never an idle moment there. St. Louis is a hundred percent better than those southern cities. You have to come up north to get southern hospitality.

The living conditions couldn't be better and we have brick buildings to stay in, just like a dormitory. I'm very satisfied with the whole set up, but I'd much rather be with my buddies over there, but there's not much you can do about it.

Well I've wasted enough of your time so I reckon I'll sign off. I won't wait so long next time before I write. Before I close I'd like to say hello to all my friends and to those across the sea. I hope they have a safe return home.

Thanks a million for the paper.
P A/C Alvin L. Monette.

Dear Editor:

It has been so long since I have written to you that I figured by now you could have forgotten me. But the fact that the Farmington Enterprise is delivered every week proves that you haven't.

I am now stationed at the Marine Corps Air Station, at El Centro, California. El Centro is located in the heart of the Imperial Valley. The climate in the valley is very, very hot. The temperature in the summer goes up to about 125 or 129 degrees in the shade. (But there is no shade.)

Since last June I have been working in the Bombardier and Air Gunners School Office. I like my work very much, and am very well satisfied with what I have. But I do wish this whole thing was over with so that everyone could get back to normal again. I have been very lucky since

LOCAL GIRLS SHARE ADVENTURE WITH WAC

Interruptions and would snap on the lights, grab a broom and beat the rats off. Champion rat-killer, Pfc Flora Wickert of Albany, New York, killed the rat in one minute, sliced and sent it to the kitchen. Food was locked up at night, and everyone "drew lots" for an upper bunk. Some rats met a watery death in rain barrels or bathtubs. Though never overcoming the problem completely, the Wacs reported they "held their own."

From Caserta, the Wacs fanned out to Naples, Rome, Athens, Pompeii, Mt. Vesuvius and the Isle of Capri, in every spare moment they could arrange. With cameras and Kodaks, they walked round, looked and ask about this new country. In Rome the Pope received almost every Wac in the company. They were brought up to the front of the audience, kissed the ring of the Holy Father and talked with him about the United States. One Wac swears that during her audience, one of the impeccable Swiss guards, glancing the throne of the Pope, winked at her!

Now settled in France, these "continentals" work with French civilians; help direct service hospitals of Italian co-belligerents; former POW's; and when they visit certain Army units for dinner, are served by German POW's.

From each new country, they learn some of the language, some of the customs but still prefer home.

But each new country is a step closer home, and the Wacs continue to work hard at their army jobs, visit neighboring hospitals to sing and write letters for the wounded, and make the best of each new situation. They stand in their showers (though they are in a hut off in the woods; and the water is often icy cold); they are still eager and enthusiastic for new faces, new countries and new sights. Of the original detachment, eight women have married. While overseas, many have become engaged—all to GI Joes—while still others have carefully carried a picture from station to station, and huddled in a blanket on a foot locker, have written that nighty letter. Home is where the heart is and the hearts of the Wacs from Africa, Italy and France are still in the U.S.A.
