

COAL USERS SHOULD FILE DECLARATIONS

As coal and coke users throughout this area began filing consumer declarations and placing orders for their supplies for the next twelve months, Edward C. Crowley, Area Distribution Manager for the Solid Fuels Administration for War, emphasized the advantages which will result from filling out their forms immediately.

"Those consumers of residential types of coal, coke and other solid fuels who will fill out their declarations and put them, along with specific orders, in the hands of their regular dealers between April 1 and May 15 will be entitled to special preferential treatment," Mr. Crowley declared.

"The new regulations which went into effect April 1," he explained, "require dealers to deliver at least 30 per cent of a full normal year's supply before October 1 to customers who file their declarations plus their orders between those dates. They must be willing, however, to accept the kinds of usable solid fuel which dealers can supply.

"The coal in a consumer's bin at the time he files his declaration is just so much 'velvet,'" the Solid Fuels official said, "since, unless he consumes 45 tons or more, it will not be counted as a part of the year's allotment. In case of circumstances, however," he added, "it can more than 50 per cent of a normal year's supply be delivered after April 1. In other words, householders must make four tons do the work of five. And every pound that is burned from now on comes out of the amount available for next winter."

Winter Feeding

Shortages of protein, discomfort from cold and dampness, shortage of drinking water, shortages of minerals and lack of proper vitamins in the diet are some of the things which must be considered in proper feeding and management to prevent poor livestock production during the winter months.

Aged-In Sealed-In Flavor

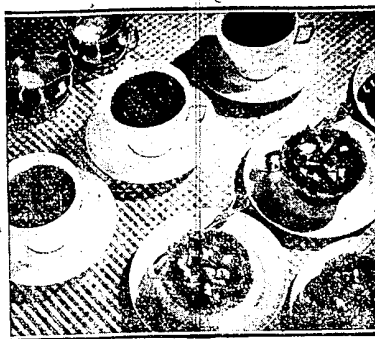

The Altes Way Is Nature's Way

Nature puts a peel around an orange to keep flavor in... air and everything harmful out. For the same reason Altes uses closed, instead of the ordinary open vats. Under this protective seal Altes Lager, like the orange, ages in flavor and ripens to the full perfection of its exclusive Aged-in Sealed-in Flavor. No other beer can offer you so much.

Full of Natural Goodness

WONDERING what to do about deserts without using up your precious sugar and shortening? Here's your answer... English Chess Tartlets. Their raisins, nuts, eggs, and coffee flavor make them naturally good. Equally good is the delicious coffee served with the tarts... or, at least, it will be if you make it properly. Be sure to measure water and coffee accurately and use enough coffee... at least two level tablespoons of coffee to each six ounces of water is recommended. These English Chess Tartlets are a marvelous dessert. "Find" the recipe and use for yourself. They require practically no shortening or sugar and the coffee used for the major part of the liquid gives them an especially good flavor. These tarts are old-fashioned favorites, modernized with cornflake pastry. Here are the recipes for the filling and the pastry.

English Chess Tartlets
2 eggs 1 cup coffee
1 cup sugar 1 cup raisins
1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup water 1/2 cup cinnamon
1/2 cup cornflakes 1/2 cup cornflake pastry or standard pastry

Beat eggs with sugar, salt and spices. Add molasses, coffee, raisins and nuts. Line tart pans with pastry. Add filling and bake about 30 minutes in moderate oven (350° F.). Loosen edges of pastry, let cool and remove from pans.

Cornflake Pastry
4 cups cornflakes
2 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
Put cornflakes through meat grinder and sift. Cream shortening with sugar, add to crumbs, knead thoroughly and press into pans. Yield: 4 large tarts or 6 small tarts.

Nicotine in Roots

The nicotine in tobacco is manufactured in the roots of the plant. Dr. Ray F. Dawson of the University of Missouri reported to the National Academy of Sciences.

Tobacco tops were grafted upon tobacco plants and tobacco stalks were made to grow on tomato stocks in order to locate where the "kick" chemical in tobacco actually originates. Tobacco leaves and stems grown on tomato roots did not increase in nicotine content and new leaves after the graft was made were nicotine free. When the graft was the other way around, the tomato leaves accumulated large quantities of nicotine and even the stems and fruit had appreciable quantities.

Vegetable Storage

There are several methods of storing garden produce for winter use, but the most important factors are to choose vegetables in prime condition, to maintain low temperatures, but above freezing, to control moisture, thereby preventing either shriveling or decay, and to be sure of good ventilation.

Clean Stain Fast

Start work quickly while a stain is fresh before it dries if you can.
