ALLIED STRATEGY IN CHINA

NEW YORK—Soundphoto—Allied strategy in China, according to military analysts, is designated at cutting off overseas supply routes to Japan. Following recent announcement by Gen. Brehon Somervell that our forces will eventually land on China coast, Chinese armies began to step up their attacks against enemy in anticipation of such action. When U. S. forces do effect such landings, analysts predict they will drive to meet the Chinese armies now battling eastward. Large arrows show how much such a junction would throttle complete flow of raw material and supplies moving overland to Japan.

VICTORY

Civilians At War
The Government needs and asks its citizens in the 188th week of the war against Japan to:

1. Equip your home now with storm sash, weather-stripping and insulation that will keep you warm with less fuel next winter. If you delay until fall, you may have to wait on labor, materials or delivery for weeks.
2. Plan to spend your vacation helping short-handed farmers get maximum food production. Farm population is now at a 25-year low and every ounce of food is needed. See your county agent or farm employment office.
3. Return to work on the railroad if you are an experienced railroad worker. Your help is needed to move troops and supplies to the West Coast. Apply at your local U. S. Employment Office.

Veterans' Developments

With the number of veterans returning to civilian life constantly increasing, the U.S. Employment Service will expand its veterans' programs and activities immediately to assure adequate and special service to veterans. Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, said. The special service to veterans includes a veterans' employment representative in each state; veterans' employment representative in each local USES office throughout the country, trained personnel to interview, counsel and refer veterans to jobs and to furnish veterans with information concerning other agencies set up to serve them. It will also speed up placement procedures to reduce the amount of time a veteran spends in the USES offices. Insofar as possible, USES personnel handling veterans' placement activities will be veterans themselves.

If they meet the requirements and desire such reemployment, officials of the Selective Service System said, in commenting on the fact that numerous inquiries have been received concerning the status of former service women in regard to reemployment.

Need For Ship Repair Workers
Stressing the desperate need for workers to get battle-damaged ships back in the fighting line, Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, announced that while approximately 6,000 craftsmen had been hired through interregional recruitment during June, an equal number of workers still are urgently required for the ship repair yards on the West Coast and at Pearl Harbor. "We cannot overemphasize the need for machinists, electricians and sheet metal workers," McNutt said. "Also needed are welders, riggers, shipwrights, aircraft workers, radio mechanics, coppermiths, mechanic learners, pipe fitters and insulators, boiler makers, instrument makers, ordnance men and packers."

The present campaign to recruit ship repair workers is a joint activity of the WMC, the Civil Service Commission, and the Navy. WMC has given the campaign the highest manpower priority in an effort to expedite recruitment. The Navy pays travel expenses to the job. Workers not employed in essential industry are urged to apply at the nearest office of the U.S. Employment Service.

Drive To Crush Ration Check Racket

Striking again at the black market's big-time criminal leaders, Chester Bowles, Administrator of OPA, has ordered a nationwide drive to crush an organized racket in the sale of ration checks. Ration checks are checks written on ration bank accounts and are used in ration transactions. In much the same way as regular checks drawn on money accounts are used. Misuse of the checks is especially serious, it was pointed out, because a single check of ten dollars involves a large quantity of rationed goods. "This particular racket is a serious threat to the OPA's entire fair distribution program and must be wiped out promptly," Mr. Bowles said.

Methods used by the racketeers already arrested in bogus ration check operations include the issuing of checks bearing forged signatures of names of wholesalers or industrial user bank accounts for the purpose of indiscriminate issuing of checks and the building up of bank credit by phony deposits of short-weight envelopes containing worthless paper or counterfeit stamps, along with some valid stamps.

No More All-Rubber Tires

No more tires will be manufactured entirely of natural rubber. W. James Sears, Deputy Director of WPB's Rubber Bureau, reported as additional steps to conserve America's dwindling stockpile of natural rubber were announced. "Every pound of natural rubber must be reserved for products that cannot be made of adequate quality by using synthetic rubber," Sears said.

Balanced Meals
You get thiamine in small amounts from a large variety of foods. If you eat well-balanced meals, and these small amounts ordinarily will add up to the amount of thiamine you need in a day. The body cannot store large amounts of B1 or thiamine, so you need to get a constant supply to make sure of having enough. Nursing and expectant mothers need more thiamine than other people.

Short-lived Capital

Shipping Needs
Each serviceman in the Pacific requires 16 tons of shipping for the first 30 days and about 6 tons each month thereafter, says the navy. Atmospheric and other conditions in that area require more careful wrapping to protect from humidity, rot, vermin and other pests.
