200-Inch 'Eye' to Be Ready in 1947

Resume Work on World's Biggest Telescope in California Soon.

PASADENA, CALIF.—The Cylifornia Institute of Technology's bage 200-inch telescope is expected to begin seeking out the unknown depths of space some time in 1947. The giganile project, conceived in 1928 but halted by the war, is to be resumed. Dr. J. A. Anderson, executive secretary of the faculty council in charge of the $8,000.000 Rocke-feller-grant undertaking, hopes to have the world's largest telescope functioning by a year from next June.
