"ONCE MORE DEAR HOME . . ."

I will capture boldness. What better words could be chosen to express the happiness of American servicemen who are home this Christmas than the opening lines of the Pilgrims' Chorus? With hundreds of thousands of veterans back in the States for the first peace-time Christmas since Pearl Harbor, the holiday season will be dedicated to them this year. USO Clubs on the "mainland" and overseas, will offer a round of gavottes from Christmas Eve through New Year's Day. USO Overseas Clubs are serving around 3,000,000 men and women a month. This figure does not include the numbers now making USO Clubs in the Philippines their homes-away-from-home. Latest reports from this area tell of some twenty thousand a day in the former Army and Navy YMCA in Manila, which is the largest USO Club outside of date in that war-torn city.

LEATHER PANTS MADE INTO SHOES

COBURG, GERMANY — Turning Nazi army leather pants into shoes for displaced persons. Displaced persons at Coburg needed shoes. The German stocks which provided essential supplies for displaced persons under UNRRA and military care, were short on footwear but yielded 2500 pairs of Wehrmacht leather trousers. The Coburg UNRRA Displaced Persons Director obtained the pants through Military Government requisition. In a workshop at the Displaced Persons Center, displaced women turned the leather into shoes.

"BIG E" TO BE TROOP TRANSPORT

BOSTON, MASS. — Warped into her berth by a tiny tug, the huge aircraft carrier "Enterprise" familiarly known as the "Big E" arrived in Boston to be converted into a temporary troop transport. Holding one of the most enviable records of any of Uncle Sam's gallant ships, she boasts of knocking down 911 Jap planes and destroying 71 ships. Her intrepid commander during the making of this enviable record, Admiral William "Bill" Halsey, will be reunited with his one time flagship when he arrives here.

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE OF PROPHECY INTERNATIONAL BIBLE EDUCATION CENTER

Question—What's the world coming to, anyway?
 Answer—It's coming to a better day, when God's kingdom will be set up. Daniel 2:44. "And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed."
 Q.—Will Adam be raised from the dead?
 A.—Jesus says in John 5:28, 29: "Mine yet not at this; for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear His voice, and shall come forth."
 Q.—Are not people who talk about the end of the world fanatics?
 A.—Jesus spoke about that great event, as we see from Matthew 13:39: "The harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are angels." (See also Matthew 24:14; 28:20.)
 Q.—Who is Belial (2 Corinthians 6:15)?
 A.—Belial is one of nearly forty names for the devil. (See Deuteronomy 19:13.)
 Q.—Why are the Ten Commandments given in different form in Deuteronomy 5? They are not quite the same there as in Exodus 20.
 A.—Exodus 20 is the original law as given by the Lord on Mount Sinai. Deuteronomy 5 is Moses' rehearsal of it about forty years later.
 Q.—What does the Bible say about foreign missions?
 A.—Our land is foreign to other lands. Christ was a foreign missionary, for He came from heaven to earth. And He said: "Go ye out, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost." Matthew 28:19. (See Matthew 21:4.)
 Q.—Does the Bible uphold astrology?
 A.—We reply by quoting Jeremiah 10:2: "Thus saith the Lord, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; for the heathen are dismayed at them." Notice also the words of Isaiah 47:13, 14: "Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee. Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame; there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it."

Yanks Find Huge Japanese Hoard

Gold and Silver Valued at $250,000,000; Gems at $30,000,000 Seized.

TOKYO—Searching for Japanese war loot American troops have uncovered more than $250,000,000 in gold and silver; and diamonds weighing more than 80 pounds, estimated in value at $30,000,000. The army and navy ministry alone found $12,000,000 in gold and silver was seized.
 It was disclosed by the raids that the Japanese government had no knowledge of the gold and silver and that neither the army nor navy has made an accounting of expenditures to the government since 1937—the year of the invasion of China.
 The hoard included 58,000,000 ounces of gold and silver bullion and coins, 33,400 ounces of platinum which no value was set, and Japanese silver coins valued at $7,000,000 yen ($1,800,000 at the occupation exchange rate of 15 to 1).
 All were seized by U. S. Sixth and Eighth army troops at Imperial Japanese headquarters, the navy ministry building, military arsenals in Osaka and in the warehouses of precious metals companies.
 Surprise to Japs.
 Greatest surprise to the Japanese finance ministry was the discovery of huge stores of silver at the army and navy ministries. The army held 8,049,920 ounces of silver valued at $8,037,440. The navy had 7,947,104 ounces valued at $5,760,328.
 The army held 21,908 ounces of platinum in addition to the silver. The navy had 11,169 ounces of platinum and 42 ounces of gold bullion valued at $145,453.
 "We were astounded to learn that the army and navy had not reported any expenditures since 1937," declared an Allied spokesman.
 "The finance ministry told us they had no reports of army and navy funds. The finance ministry didn't know either the army or navy had a single ounce of precious metals."
 "The two services drew their money from a master account with the Bank of Japan and only they knew what became of it."
 Chief accountants of the army and navy were from two to three years behind in their reports.
 The headquarters spokesman said the hoard would be stored in the imperial palace and in the Bank of Japan vaults. It was seized suddenly to make sure specie reserves didn't disappear, he said.
 A complete evaluation of the reserves was not to be made for several days, the spokesman said. An exact evaluation was hampered because the Japanese had dispersed bank records to avoid bomb damage.
 Diamonds worth $30,000,000.
 The diamonds—200 pounds of them at jewelers' weight of 12 ounces to the pound—were discovered in cheap quartz thermos bottles in a safe deposit vault.
 The gems, largely government-owned and many obtained through deceit of the Japanese people, are valued at more than $30,000,000.
 The fortune in diamonds was found in the Mitsui Trust company vault, deposited in the name of a Japanese government import and export control agency.
 Many of the diamonds had been contributed by civilians who were told they were needed for industrial use. Obviously they were never used for that purpose. Possibly the gems were intended for use as trading material with Germany and other nations that had war continued.
 Some of the gems probably were obtained abroad, as the same type of campaign for them was conducted by the Japanese over the years.
 The same government control agency also had 33,000 karats (about 2 1/2 pounds) of diamonds in vaults at Osaka, considerable gold and nearly 200 pounds of platinum in various parts of Tokyo.

Find Home for Belgium Boy Who Lost Memory

PARIS.—Thanks to Corp. Warren Augustine of Hamilton, Ohio, an 11-year-old Belgian boy was reunited with the family from which he was separated last December by the famous "Battering of the bulge."
 The youngster, Gaston Delecaux, suffered a temporary loss of memory when the battle swept over his home village of Menneville, 10 miles from Belgium. Since then he had traveled across Europe with the U. S. 101st airborne division and the 6th armored division's 76th infantry—a homeless mascot.
 Finally he attached himself to Corporal Augustine, who instituted a search for his family. The search ended in success recently when Gaston's father, a shoemaker, was reunited with the child in Paris. The reunion restored his memory.

Offer Furloughs to Men Who Re-Enlist

PARIS.—Furloughs ranging from 20 to 30 days are among the inducements being offered by the army to re-enlist 20 per cent of the enlisted troops now in the European theater. U. S. army headquarters says.
 The furloughs may be taken in the United States, England or "any liberated country in Europe."

Commercial Nitrogen Deposits Corn Studies at Purdue university indicate that it takes two pounds of commercial nitrogen, used in conjunction with the usual legume-mame program, to produce a bushel of corn. As commercial nitrogen currently sells for about 10 cents a pound, the additional cost for each bushel would be only 20 cents. The margin of profit obviously is considerable. Even at 50-cent commercial nitrogen probably can be used at a profit when supplementing good soil fertility practices.

Wolf Clip Declines. The quantity of wolf skins in 1945 is estimated at 32,621,000 pounds by the department of agriculture. This quantity is 7 per cent smaller than the quantity in 1944 and 18 per cent below the record production in 1943. It is the smallest production since 1929.

Wolf Poison. Centuries ago, when moving wolf packs were numerous, the tomato was called "wolf peach" because of its supposedly poisonous character. The so-called "poison" was a mixture of meat liberally sprinkled with acetic, were thrown to the wolves to kill them.
