County Red Cross
Reviews First Aid

Dr. E. B. Cudney, chairman of First Aid of the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, announces that eleven lay instructors have recently reviewed their first aid training under the direction of Wm. T. Muhl, director of First Aid and Water Safety of the local chapter. These instructors received instruction in the changes in the new text book and are now equipped to teach classes. First Aid was given a tremendous impetus during the war when all individuals were conscious of the need to know what to do in an emergency. During the war period the American National Red Cross issued over one million certificates to just such individuals. Not only is First Aid valuable in an emergency but training in this subject provides the individual with a greater consciousness of his own safety. Accident statistics from Dec. 7, 1911 to June 1, 1915 show that 335,000 individuals died in accidents and 35,000, 000 individuals were injured. War casualties for the same period number 230,174 killed and 613,000 wounded.

Dr. Cudney states that individuals or organizations wishing First Aid instruction may contact the chapter office, Pontiac 2-830, where arrangements will be made for classes. The following instructors have completed their review and are now authorized to teach: Mrs. Eliza Becker, Hay's old Dearing; Charles Pettit, E. Stuart Richter, and Ralph Forman, Pontiac; Louis D. Corbat, Oxford; Mrs. Lillian D. Knapp, Berkley; Gordon F. MacLachlan, Clawson; Prentiss Mark Smith, Birmingham; Franklin Dowling, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Katherine Stockinger, Franklin.

Grapefruit Halves

To make grapefruit halves sit flat, without wobbling, remove button from stem end with a pointed knife. Press down each end of fruit on table surface with palm of hand to flatten ends.
