FRESHMEN CONQUER NORTHVILLE

By the looks of the way the Freshman Casers defeated Northville last Friday, a winning streak has gotten into all the F.H.S. basketball squads.

This was the first tilt for the Freshies, but fans can expect more from these boys who ran up 36 points to Northville's 16. Owen Mitchell and Bud Bryant sparked the Fresh team with 10 marks each.

The Junior High took its second victory from Redford Union last Friday as they outscored the Panthers 25-9.

Farmington led all the way and showed very good style.

Junior High scorers ran in this order — Barrons, Louys, Dubeal, Tyler, Tupper and Yanke. —B.C.

CHILDREN AT WORK

Among the fifth graders who worked hard during the last marking period and made the Honor Roll are Rhylis Keat, Billy Kingsley, Denise Nichols, Don O'Connell, Marlene Robinson, Lois Scott, Jack Shatta, Bobbie Smith, Carol Starkey, Dick Tyler, Gertrude White and Barbara Wynn.

Each six weeks marks the election of new officers for their "Silver Star Club." This time the results are: President, Don O'Connell; Vice-President, Dick Tyler; and Secretary-Treasurer, Carol Starkey.

Attempting to start the New Year right were the pupils in sixth grade, for their teacher made several resolutions for them. As was the experience of adults, the breaking of these resolutions came within the next week or so.

History was taught a little differently last week when the class heard German music with their teachers.

Working with chalk in art class and making clothing booklets for Health were new things started this week. —M.J.S.

EDITORIAL

By slightly modifying a well-known adage we find that "In mid-winter a student's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of exams." However, there is one word, "lightly," which might better be eliminated. Now, a few weeks before semester finals, we should seriously dig in and do our reviewing in gradual doses instead of leaving all for eleventh hour cramming. Of course, you might be able to write a reasonably good test the day after a few hours of "swotting," but would you be able to make a good showing throughout a week?

A new system is to be initiated this year. Regular class periods for one week, January 21 through January 24, have been scheduled for the examinations. Therefore, it will be entirely up to each teacher to decide how many days will be devoted to the written work.

A word to the wise, they say, is sufficient. Check your make-up work if you've been absent. Begin your reviewing now. Get plenty of sleep so you can at least see the questions.

The decisions we make today lead the way to the results of tomorrow. Decide to study today—write a good final next week. —N.C.

F.H.S. Students To Present Radio Show

"On the air" will be the sign reading the Speech, Music and Athletic departments on February 12 at 2:30. The fifteen minute program, which will originate from WCAR in Pontiac, will consist of a sketch entitled "Big Shots," featuring some 35 students. It will be directed by Lloyd Smith, Jr.

A similar broadcast, presented by the speech class last year, was rated quite successful by Mr. Smith and WCAR officials. Radio directors said that it was one of the best shows of its type ever given over that station. —H.M.H.

PEP MEETING FEATURES SURPRISES

"Oh, Farmington, we love thee, thy knowledge, hallowed halls That echo to the tread of those on whom the future falls.

Oh, Farmington, we hall thee, thy shield of blue and white That stands triumphant over all, the emblem of thy might.

Thy fame that's born of glory and customs born of fame, We keep in pride and loyalty in honor of thy name.

Oh, Farmington, we love thee; We'll hail thee through the years And dream of every golden hour each passing year endears."

High-lighting the Pep meeting, sponsored by the Student Council, Friday, January 11, was an original P.H.S. hymn. John Pettibone, sophomore, wrote the lyric; Lloyd Smith, Jr., band director, composed the music.

The Boys' Glee club from the eighth grade made its first public appearance and the gym nearly burst its seams, so loud was the applause.

Adding a "big business" touch to the whole affair was Bob Miller, Student Council president, who presented checks to the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs and to the Band.

Mr. Smith's version of the abovementioned prayer for the hunting for his statistics might have been called "A sermon on dropping papers on the floor." —W.C.

Pavlovich - Ouzounian Nuptials Revealed

Friends received word early this week that Miss Anne Pavlovich and Andrew Ouzounian were married in a simple ceremony Monday, January 14.

After a short wedding trip to Esplanade Ouzounian, who returned unexpectedly from Korea last week, will report back to California, and Mrs. Ouzounian, who taught history and English in F.H.S. for two years, will continue teaching in Battle Creek High School.

All who knew her or worked with her wish her happiness. —M.A.T.

Barn Dance, F.H.S. Style

"Are you going? Did you ask him?" Practically all conversations began or ended with that question this week. Many plans were made—and broken—"for the Barn Dance," to be sponsored by the Junior and Senior classes on January 26. There will be dancing to the music of Datus Moore from 3:30 to 12 o'clock. —N.S.

Youngsters Pleased With P.T.A. Gift

"I just know Santa Claus would come and bring us something," was the remark made by a little boy in the second grade as he was eating the ice cream and candy given to all grade school children by the P.T.A.

These children, though they realize it's rather late, want to thank the P.T.A. for the refreshments and Mr. Olliver for representing Santa. —N.S.

Wedding To Be Staged In High School Gym

Although spectators may be familiar with weddings, they will find the Ragtime Wedding, between the halves of the first team game January 25, very interesting. The unusual bride will be Miss Bob Redner; the groom, Mr. Arthur Orofino, a white Dutch Doll will marry the handsome pair.

Featured songs are "Daisy," "Skaters' Waltz," and "Together." The Gay Nineties Review will be climaxed when "the groom carries the bride laughingly over the threshold; if he is strong enough to pick her up." —M.J.S.
