

At Esteride Marquette held his last mission among the Kestakis.

Death beckoning, the Jesuit and his companions set out for St. Ignace, Mich.

Indians accompanied them "thirty leagues", bidding reluctant farewell.

Neering the future site of Ludington, the dying priest ordered a landing.

Kenn Loomis, past president of Farmington Kiwanis Club, will speak at Wednesday night's club meeting, reviewing the activities of 1945, both in actual accomplishments and in working on plans which will still be events of the future.

On Wednesday evening, January 30, local Kiwanians will go to Forest Hills Country Club to attend the Charter Night program of the West Bloomfield Kiwanis Club, which Club Farmington sponsored.

At last week's meeting Carl Schultz, chairman of the Committee on Kiwanis Education and Support of Churches, presented the program, making some excellent recommendations and suggestions for furthering the work of this committee. By following the outline which Carl gave every member will better understand the aims and potentialities of the Kiwanis Club. At the same time, a complete history of the local club will be kept for future reference, and a book shelf will be established for the use of club members.

Carl pointed out the responsibility of each club member to give his support to the church in her spiritual aims, needed now as never before. Unless this support is forthcoming we cannot hope to establish a Peace which will last down through the years ahead.

Fred and Adolph expressed their thanks to the Club for the gifts which were given, and told of many interesting and amusing side lights on the business history of Farmington. Forty-seven members and guests were present at the luncheon.

The Club initiated new members at its meeting on January 16, and also were honored by a visit from Arthur Lesow, State President of Michigan Exchange Clubs. Mrs. Lesow was entertained by the wives of Exchange Club officers at Botsford Tavern.

Maurice Brown will have charge of the program on January 23, and will present William J. Eggenberger, who will talk on "Financial Responsibilities."

Water Cultivation
Two methods of growing are practiced in hydroponics. In one the growing plants are suspended above a screened tank so that their roots dangle in the chemical solution. In the other the plant roots cling to gravel or cinder as a holding medium, and the solution is supplied periodically through the shallow tanks as sub-surface irrigation. The Ascension Island gardeners, of the latter type, use black volcanic cinders as the holding medium.

Different Sized Turkeys
Developments in turkey breeding have widened the range in weight of turkeys. This means more choice of sizes of turkeys to meet various trade and home needs.

Potato Seed
In cutting potato seed for planting, the most important requirement is to have one good eye on each seed piece.

Safety Hazard
Broken glass and tin with sharp edges and nails sticking up in boards clutter up the yard and are a safety hazard to playing children.

Jap Balloons
Japanese war balloons were employed in the Russo-Japanese conflict in 1904. At that time the Japs did not use bomb-laden free balloons like those now released across the Pacific. These earlier types were captive airships.

Colored Bulbs
Flame tint bulbs burn up light. Amber-orange and flame tint bulbs give a warm glow, but they steal light. To get more light, replace them with inside frosted bulbs of the same wattage or plain bulbs covered by small shades.

IS PUBLIC EDUCATION COLLAPSING?

An exhaustive study by Allen Shoensfield of The Detroit News staff reveals an alarming situation in Michigan.

Teachers are leaving, buildings are deteriorating. From one-room schoolhouse to state university, education is being starved by neglect, lack of funds and political scheming. Education is at a crisis.

What are you going to do about it? First, read the Shoensfield articles. Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, says: "I think this is the best popular exposition of the school problem I have ever seen in print."
