PEP CLUB OFFICERS START BALL ROLLING

Although the new Pep Club was only two weeks ago, already there is a decided showing of interest and enthusiasm.

At the club's second meeting which took place Friday afternoon at 12:45, club officers were chosen by a large representative body. The officers elected were: President, Doris Lathrup; vice-president, Howard Packard and secretary-treasurer, Dolly Tipu. Past experiences prophesied successful handling of their jobs.

Those students who show they want to be members and who are selected will receive a slip of paper with this statement: "You have been selected as a member of the P.H.S. Pep Club. This selection carries with it the responsibility of continued attendance at Pep meetings and games, with your active participation." Doris Lathrup.

The club, especially wants to publicly commend the cheerleaders (seldom praised, often criticized, but always on the job) for their fine work all year. These students, working after school with Miss Hoffman, are Charlotte Rivdars, Mary Youngblood, Donna Lee Rowland, Lee Ebersole and Martha Orofino.

Many Pep Club members have been asking about some way of transportation to games away from home, and now their inquiries have been answered. There will be a bus going to Keego Harbor for club members; if written permission is received from the parents of each member. —B.M.

The Junior Falcons Triumph Again

Junior High basketball teams seem to really have the winning spirit, for they repented a past performance by trouncing the Northville Mustangs twice in their games last week.

The eighth grade tilt proved to be one of keen competition and of victory for the Junior Falcons as they kept out in front all the way, finally winning 20 to 13.

The seventh graders had an easier time of it when they overwhelmed a less experienced quintet 20 to 10.

Both teams are showing added improvement with each game, and Coach Hutton should have no trouble picking a winning combination in the years forthcoming. —H.T.

EDITORIAL

To be on time is one of the student's most present aims, but his manner of getting to class — with late note.

Some of us are what may be called heel scrapers. In order to make the fellow in front of us "step it up" we kick or scrape the heel of our shoes. It usually gets results, but one of these days our meek fellow is going to use a kick-back. Still others keep in practice by regarding the stairs as a football obstacle. You know the kind, a forward lunge with hands extended to shove the opposition out of the way. Yes, sometimes we are so anxious to get started on that English test that in our mad dash up the stairs, we fall flat on our faces. However, the reckless fender who runs his pencil the length of the wall tops them all.

No, we don't have to march and goosestep like the Hitler Youth; we don't have to creep on all fours, let's just consider the other "pedestrian." —M.H.W.

Items From Band House Way

Housing for sixty members of the Albion College Band, which is a concert here Sunday, March 31, is badly needed. Nancy Robertson, in charge of securing housing for the musicians, will gladly receive any offers from persons in town. The rooms will be required for one night only, the night of the concert.

New members of the band have been announced as follows: Paul Estep, who comes all the way from California, clarinet; Richard Morley, alto horn; Joan Kemp, saxophone, and Larry Gilson, trombone.

Monday, February 25, at 7:30 p.m. is the date set for the first meeting of the Band Mothers' Club at the band home. All interested are cordially invited. —M.J.S.

Dr. Kelley Praises S.C. Government

More than a hundred delegates representing eleven schools were in attendance at the Student Council Conference held at Ypsilanti on February 12, where methods and ideas were exchanged by the students.

In the morning the delegates heard a talk, delivered by Dr. Kelly of Wayne University, who spoke on some of the duties of a good Student Council. In his talk he pointed out several significant facts: (1) In today's world responsibility is not given to young people at home so it must be given in school mostly through a S.C. government; (2) since it must involve every person everyday, every student when he comes to school does something to make the school better, because he came; (3) teachers must have faith and be willing to allow some things which are "wrong."

It was decided to have one meeting each semester, and Wayne High School volunteered to be host next fall. —H.M.H.

TAIL LIGHTS...

Angry horns in the form of words flew back and forth between debaters of fourth hour Speech class recently. The discussion led from the topic "Should a President Serve Eight Years" to a heated argument on Roosevelt's policies.

"Ego to amo" is what a Roman lad used to say to the fair lady of his choice. At least, so the kids in Latin class learned when they were making Roman valentines.

There was fun, galore at the Gym last Saturday night. As a forfeit for losing the March of Dimes contest, the boys of the Social Living classes gave the girls a party. —M.H. and M.J.E.

Special Orchestra To Play For Operetta

When the curtain rises on "The Belle of Bagdad" Saturday, February 23, at 8 p.m., the audience will relax to the strains of oriental music only to be pleasantly startled by barefoot dancers and music by the antics of the Prefect of Police. The accompaniment will be furnished by a special orchestra from the F.H.S. Band. If you have not already purchased tickets, you will find them on sale at the door. —M.J.S.
