THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

GEORGE: "Yes, I certainly would like to hear why you call that an old fashioned idea, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "Glad to tell you, George. Until recently, a person known as an alcoholic was generally treated as a social outcast. Little if anything was done to understand him or help him. But, during the past few years, medical research and study has developed that alcoholics are really sick people... that there is usually a deep seated physical, social or emotional reason behind their behavior. That's why today so much is being done to help them by finding out and correcting the condition that leads them to excess."

GEORGE: "How many folks are there like that, Judge?"
OLD JUDGE: "Well, according to scientific research, 95% of the people who drink, drink sensibly. 5% do so unwisely, at times. Included in that 5% is the small percentage of the sick people I'm talking about."
GEORGE: "That certainly gives me a clearer picture. It's the most sensible approach I've ever heard on the subject."

funds, serious teacher overloads. "Many services regarded essential, a well-rounded school system have been dropped for lack of funds for teachers and supplies. Included among them are music, shop, physical education, art, home economics, commercial, library, drama, dramatics, vocational education, speech and languages. "Sixty percent of the schools stated that some substitutes are available although most of them said the situation is critical. Forty percent said no more substitutes are available. "Teachers returning. "Of 543 former teachers who were in military service, 322 have returned to teaching. Of 295 former teachers who were employed in business or industry, 101 have returned to teaching. A total of 226 schools stated that no former teachers in military service returned to teaching, while 319 schools reported that no former teachers who had entered business or industry returned to teaching. "Schools reported they would have to pay from $50 to $300 or $400 more for new teachers next year. The average that schools expected to pay for teachers to fill vacancies next year was $184 more than was paid this year. "Pupil-teacher ratios. Among city and village schools, elementary pupil-teacher loads had increased in 1945, by 52 percent of the schools reporting. In 43 districts, or 10 per cent, loads had decreased; loads were about the same in 108 or 25 per cent. For junior high schools, loads had increased in 155, by 52 per cent of the schools reporting; in 27, or 9 per cent, loads had decreased; in 116, or 39 per cent, loads were about the same. Among high schools, loads were reported, increased loads were shown in 163, or 45 per cent; an almost identical number reported loads about the same, while 37, or 10 per cent, reported loads decreased. "Out of 439 schools reporting on estimated deficits or balances at the close of this school year, 242, or 55 per cent, expected to have a balance (although in virtually all cases a decreased balance) and 197, or 45 per cent, expected to end the year with a deficit."

As we appraise the needs of the Michigan public schools, we can't help wonder about the validity of a political slogan, "Reduce the state sales tax by one-third," as currently sponsored by the Reading Industrialist. How should Michigan meet the serious financial needs of its public schools? Who is going to pay the bill, anyway? You can't have your cake and eat it too. As we see it, the state legislature acted wisely to take care of the state's primary needs — public schools, colleges and hospitals — as well as provide for assistance to Michigan's returning war veterans. To talk about reducing the state sales tax in the face of such reality, without first suggesting adequate substitute revenue, is to make much sense out of Michigan school matters. And probably to some other folks, too.
