

MICHIGAN AND THE OLD NORTHWEST — Early Years At Detroit

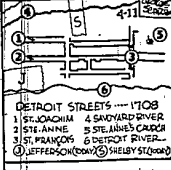

Probable appearance of first port of arrival... from a well-known historical source.

In the autumn, 1701, wives of Cadillac and Alphonse de Tonty arrived.

The arrival is portrayed in a mural by Melchers in Detroit Public Library.

By 1710, a warehouse, powder magazine, brewery, and ice house had been built.

Making a plea for freedom from fear through maintenance of law and order through the support of military service and a strong Army and Navy, Fletcher Renton, Exchange Club speaker on April 3 challenged the members present to help solve existing veterans' problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCullough, Mr. Wm. Caveny, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lancaster attended the young peoples meeting of the Redeemer Presbyterian Church in Detroit Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jensen and son of Lansing and Mr. Donald Jensen of Manton, Mich. were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Jensen.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS As you know from the newspapers and radio, the government requires all flour milled after March 1st to be 80% extraction.

This means that 80% of the wheat berry will be included in the flour, which is from 8% to 20% more than heretofore, depending upon the type of flour.

After a very enjoyable pot luck dinner with the ladies of the AUXiliary at the Town Hall on April 3, the newly elected officers of Farmington Post 4033, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were officially installed in their offices by Commander George Gee, commander of the 5th District of Michigan.

Following the installation our newly elected Commander, Thomas Tardy, called a short business meeting at the Post rooms for the purpose of instructing the new officers in their duties.

Quartermaster William C. Carpenter will be pleased to learn that Robert Ham has been re-appointed Quartermaster Sergeant, to assist in keeping the vast amounting details and financial records in order.

It is urgently requested by Commander Tardy that all Rituals outstanding will be turned in immediately, in order that the new officers may perfect themselves in their work as soon as possible.

Don't forget the date of the next regular meeting, April 17, at which time several new applicants will be voted on.

Our new Junior Vice Commander, Fred G. Menzies, will be in charge of refreshments.

Kiwanians were greatly interested in the discussion at their meeting last week on the topic, "What the Veteran Wants of You." Dr. Loomis of the University of Michigan introduced two veteran students from the University, both of whom are obtaining their education through the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Mr. Weikert referred to the provisions of the G. I. Bill, pointing out that the veteran of today is receiving more, and has greater opportunity than any other veteran has ever had.

Mr. Underwood discussed the exchange student plan, as a representative of that group. Under this plan students of other countries come here to receive their education, while some of our young men are sent to other countries to attend their colleges and universities.

Ray Eichler was program chairman of the evening.

Next week's meeting will be under the direction of John Beard.

The Kiwanians will soon be meeting in the Farmington Town Hall, instead of at the Salem Evangelical Church.

Mrs. Aura Condit and son, Eldon Condit and family of Ann Arbor were Sunday supper guests of the former's niece, Mrs. Wm. Burnett and Marie Waring, at the Wm. Burnett residence.
