This is the last notice and invitation to join in on the big parade Memorial Day, May 30, to honor the dead of both wars. Everyone has lost some loved ones during these wars, so let's be at the Farmington High School Thursday morning to join in honoring them. The parade starts promptly at 11:00 a.m.

The Farmington High School band will follow the commanders of all participating veterans' organizations, who will be marching in to lead the parade. Everybody come and help make this the biggest and best parade ever. A game is scheduled for Thursday night against a Redford team, and also one on Sunday, June 2, against the Amvels of Novi. They will be played at the Farmington High School baseball diamond. All are invited to come and watch the fun.

Any of the Legionnaires who are interested in bowling, should get in contact with Ralph Danforth. He is the bowling chairman. He plans to form a number of good teams this year.

The Legion regrets the death of Carl Hogle's father. He was buried last Saturday.

There will be a social meeting this Thursday, and don't forget the business meeting the following Thursday, June 5, at the Legion Hall on Grand River. Bring your buddies to join, or visit.

FROM THE FARM-BELT CIVIC ASSOCIATION

There is not much to report this week along the lines of business. As we stressed last week, we can conduct no business without it.

Does this indicate a lack of interest? Does it mean that members want or need no civic improvement? We do not think so. We have but to look around to see the need, and you can always hear the people expressing their desire for improvement. Why then, do these people not give to the board of directors something to work on? We don't like to keep harping on the same subject, but the success of this organization depends solely on the members. Let's hear from you.

KIM SIGLER, Republican candidate for Governor, will speak in Farmington at 9:30 a.m., Tuesday, June 4th. Plan to hear this man who will keep graft out of State government.—Paid Political Adv.

If you have some thought which you would like to have brought before the board, first write it, then give it to the director in your area. Or you may mail it to the association in care of box 274, Farmington. The directors of the areas were listed last week for your convenience and information. For further information on association activities you can still call 1595-J.

"Government has not kept pace with the scientific and industrial development of this country," Edward J. Jeffries, mayor of the City of Detroit, stated before the Farmington Kiwanis Club Wednesday evening at the Town Hall.

Jeffries pointed out the modern individual thinking and leadership is urgently needed if we are to establish government on an even plane with our progressive development. "Never before in the history of this country have we needed good straight thinking and leadership more than right now," Jeffries stated.

"The United States stands at the cross roads," Jeffries pointed out. "It is imperative that we start with the fundamentals if we are to find the solution." Jeffries emphasized that we have turned to a collective movement for our security.

He discussed the problems involved in securing revenue from the state for the local governments, counties, townships and municipalities. Jeffries pointed out that the State of Michigan has received and is still receiving revenue in excess of its expenditures and piling it up, while local governments are in need of revenue in excess of what they can raise. Both California and New York have recently passed laws allotting money from the state to the local governments, Jeffries said.

"Ticket" sales got under way on the forthcoming auction to be held Saturday, June 22. A program about this auction is being arranged by A. C. Tynes and Jon Himmelpach for Wednesday evening, June 6. It will also be Ladies' Night at the Club.

To The Editor:

So "Young American" thinks of the Union as a union. Well, of course the Union has its faults and makes mistakes. Who does not?

But if it were not for the Union we would be in a much sorer state than what we are at present. I remember before the Union came in and took hold, my husband was working in a well known auto factory. He hardly had time to breathe and the company had efficiency men standing around to keep the men on the go. But now it's the Union Steward looking out for the worker. The working people are the backbone of our country and the Union is for the worker.

God pity anyone who is dumb enough to blame the miner for the strike trouble in the South. My uncle was killed in a mine in West Virginia, and I know something about a miner's work. It's the hardest kind of work.

It's people like "Young American" who should "wake up". Now just as it was in the Civil War days — it's the Union.

We lived in Farmington for seven years and love it. Wish we might move back and spend our remaining days there and perhaps will — but as I've said before the Union is good for us and we need it. Just as it says out in The Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak — Capital can't do without Labor — Labor can't do without Capital — they've got to get together.
