MICHIGAN AND THE OLD NORTHWEST' — Founding Of Mackinaw

Mackinaw City's first fort (1715-167) succeeded Ft. de Buade at St. Ignace.

It enclosed also a church built by Fr. Joseph Morest about 1711.

De Lignery records include expenses for a fort at Mackinaw "since 1715".

May, 1716: 225 soldiers go to Mackinaw, enroute to war on Wasconsin Foxes.

It was a record crowd of Klwanians, their wives and guests, that presented itself at the Klwanian Club meeting last Wednesday evening at the Farmington Town Hall. Following the dinner the usual fun and jovial mood prevailed. Under the direction of Lloyd Smith, four members of the High School, Elizabeth Johnson, Norman Potts, Alvin Garchow, Bob Miller and Bill Daines, sang several songs, greatly enjoyed by everyone.

Joe Himmelspach spoke in regard to the Klwanian Auction set for Saturday, June 22. The chairman of the various Auction committees spoke briefly, and judging from the reports they made, the groundwork is well laid for one of the most successful events the Club has ever staged. Ticket sales on the Jeep or Station Wagon are going well, and everyone is doing his part to make the Auction a success.

Next week on Wednesday evening the Klwanians are going to report at the Town Hall for their regular meeting, all set to go to work. They'll be wearing their work clothes, and will set out immediately after dinner to collect items for the Auction. Chairmen have been appointed in each section of the community and they will be lined up at the contributions for the Auction from their particular area. The men will go out and gather up the donations and bring them in to the central collection depot at the Farmington Dairy where they will be stored until the day of the big Auction. The auction promises to be a lot of fun, and one of the more unusual entertainment features of the year. Plan to attend Saturday, June 22 — Precise Parking Lot, corner Farmington Road and State Street. All proceeds benefit the underprivileged children.

Sunday, June 9, Commander Thomas H. Tardy, Adjutant William Fairley and Quartermaster William C. Carpenter attended the 11th District rally at Ferndale, Michigan.

Several very important problems pertaining to veterans affairs were discussed. Resolutions were recommended for presentation before the State Department Convention to be held in Grand Rapids, June 21, 22, 23.

A number of members of the Farmington Post 4033 and the official delegates appointed are expected to attend the state convention.

At the next regular meeting, June 19, the post will entertain the ladies of the auxiliary at a dinner given after the regular meeting.

VETERANS

VETERANS WHO ENTERED SCHOOL AT OWN EXPENSE WILL BE REIMBURSED

Veterans who entered school at their own expense while they were on terminal leave or while they were hospitalized and awaiting discharge before December 28, 1945, may receive refunds for tuition, books and supplies under a Veterans Administration procedure announced this week.

No provision was made for such refunds in the original GI Bill passed in June, 1944. But the amended GI Bill approved December 28, 1945, did cover them.

Under the procedure set up by VA, refunds will be handled through the VA regional office having jurisdiction over the area in which each veteran lives. VA will pay the refunds to the educational institution after it has reimbursed him. The procedure follows:

Necessary Procedure

1. The veteran must obtain a certified statement from the school he attended, giving the period he was enrolled, the course of studies he pursued, and the money he paid for tuition, books and supplies. The statement must indicate that the institution has reimbursed him for the money he spent.

2. The veteran must submit this certified statement to the VA regional office of his area. If he was on terminal leave at the time, he must include a photostatic copy of the service order placing him on terminal leave. If he was hospitalized, he must include a statement of the proper official of the station, post or hospital, in which he was receiving treatment, including information as to the date of his discharge or, if he still is hospitalized, of the probable discharge date. Whether he was on terminal leave or whether he was hospitalized, he must include an official VA application for education or training in event he has not already filed one.

3. The institution must submit to the same regional office a public voucher covering the amount refunded to the veteran.

VA explained it can make refunds only if the institution in which the veteran was enrolled had been approved by the appropriate state agency. The money refunded must not exceed the amount which VA would have authorized for education or training under instruction in effect during the period for which the veteran is asking reimbursement.

Since the GI Bill was amended by Public Law 268, a serviceman otherwise eligible for benefits may apply for training and enter a school as he is on terminal leave or while he is hospitalized pending discharge. The school then can bill VA for his expenses along with those of other veterans' students. However, he can not receive subsistence allowances while on terminal leave or hospitalized, VA said.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

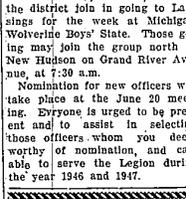

All those who delight in seeing places and property improved in appearance are asked to join in the House Cleaning Party at the American Legion Home on Saturday, June 15, at 2:30 a.m. It seems quite impossible at the present time, to begin building the new Legion Home, which will be erected on Grand River. Therefore a little scrubbing and a neat job at the present home will not do any harm. Jack Brewington is in charge — bring your help to him.

Sunday brings on another great game, of the Senior Baseball League of the American Legion. The game will be Sunday afternoon at the Farmington High School grounds.

On Thursday, June 13, boys of the district will go to Lansing for the week at Michigan Wolverine Boys' State. Those going may join the group north of New Hudson on Grand River Avenue at 7:30 a.m.

Nomination for new officers will take place at the June 20 meeting. Everyone is urged to be present and to assist in selecting those officers whom you deem worthy of nomination, and capable to serve the Legion during the year 1946 and 1947.
