STATE ASKS FOR RECONSTRUCTION BIDS ON BRIDGE

The Michigan State Highway Department has recently announced that bids are now being taken on the re-construction of a bridge on Beech Road over River Rouge, three miles east and one-half mile south of Farmington.

Although the serious shortage in steel and cement has seriously handicapped the State Highway Department in getting its postwar reconstruction program under way, the Department has awarded contracts of advertisement for bids to be taken at an early date on more than $6,000,000 worth of work.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler told the Upper Peninsula Road Builders at a luncheon and annual banquet. This work includes 61.5 miles of grading, 37.3 miles of paving, 21 bridges and 73 miles of blacktop surface.

Commissioner Ziegler explained that the Department has been forced to withdraw advertisements for bids on a number of paving and bridge jobs because contractors cannot obtain materials. As a result the Department is shifting its program almost entirely to grading jobs, taking some from its second and third year programs in order to keep things moving and obligate available federal aid funds which the state is receiving on a 50-50 matching basis. By doing the grading now, and postponing paving and bridges until later, the Department hopes to complete on time the $78,000,000 for present highways until the year, and the next two, the period covered by the present federal aid law.

"This work is being done, and will continue to be done on new locations and on existing roads so that traffic can be maintained as far as possible so as to avoid detours that are not absolutely necessary. We are not going to tear up present highways until we know they can be replaced quickly with new construction so as to avoid detouring traffic over a long period of time," the Commissioner said.

Commissioner Ziegler said Michigan lost $78,000,000 in normal building during wartime building restrictions and due to loss of gas tax revenue during the war. This, in addition, heavy war traffic has exacted a costly toll in road damage that would not have happened in normal years. He estimated $250,000,000 would be required to put the state trunkline system in condition to meet traffic needs existing now. Thus, it would take 10 years at the present rate of gas tax revenue income to do the work that is needed now.

Commissioner Ziegler also said Michigan will receive its second year allotment of funds for use on Secondary roads, both state trunklines and county roads, soon after July 1, start of the new fiscal year. The amount, $4,133,431 is about the same as that allotted to this state for the present fiscal year. It will be available for programming immediately.

The County Road Association, representing the various county road commissions of the state and the Highway Department have agreed to divide this money as follows: $2,972,143 for county roads; $1,161,288 for the state trunkline system and $1,089,255 for state trunklines on the same system, a division of 73 per cent for the counties and 27 per cent for the state. Michigan will also receive for use on the state trunkline system in both urban and rural areas some $12,500,000 additional in federal aid.

NOVI AMVETS TAKE SECOND STRAIGHT, 11-5
The Novi Amvets captured their second consecutive tilt last Sunday afternoon as they walked through the mud (to sink the Dearborn Victors, 11-5).

The Novi lads repeated their last week's feat as they drove out 12 hits including second baseman Hansor's triple in the third which proved fatal too as Baylo and Orline scored ahead of Hansor who scored when Crumm flied to centerfield.

Orline went all the way for the Amvets as he fanned nine and allowed an equal amount of well scattered hits.

Thump was the roar, going the length for Victors, fanning six and nabbing hitting honors for his squad with three singles.

Novi will play again on July 4.
