

'Conspiracy' Puts Thought On Trial

By KATHY MORAN

Political trials are taking place in this country -- and the crime is thinking.

Sounds like it should be George Orwell, author of "1984" speaking, but it was defense attorney William Kunstler talking about the several political trials going on now or already completed.

The 52-year-old attorney spoke at Schoolcraft College last week in the cultural and public affairs lecture series. Educator Max Rafferty will be the last speaker. His talk on "Conservative View of Student Unrest" will be at 8 p.m. April 6 in upper Waterman Center.

KUNSTLER, WHO came to national prominence as the outspoken defense for the Chicago Seven trial, warned his predominantly young audience to be critical and analytical of the legal system.

Conspiracy laws should be abolished, Kunstler said, because "if they can't get you for doing it, or attempting to do it, then they can get you for fantasy -- for thinking."

"Once you get into 'think' crimes, the sky is the limit," he added, saying that such crimes are impossible to defend because the only ingredient needed is an informer.

Conspiracy charges aren't new -- Jesus and Socrates are among those who had been charged and destroyed for conspiracy he said.

Conspiracy trials are contrived for three reasons, he said -- to destroy the individual as a symbol of social change; to scare and disband the followers; and to solidify those who are already in the system.

religious leaders is sure to alienate the 50 million Catholics who don't approve of religious participating in such activities and the 150 million Protestants who still have a carryover of anti-Catholicism. Harrisburg itself is a perfect setting because of its inaccessibility and the rural population with "no Catholics, no blacks and no students" around to demonstrate.

"I am for people confronting their systems," Kunstler said of social change. "I don't say I love violence, but I recognize the possibility of it."

Total sound is the full impact . . . distortion-free sound. You can play this Speaker System at full volume and you will consistently enjoy the pleasure of complete musical definition of instruments, natural presence and perfect musical balance. Begin with the strength and fidelity of the bass notes . . . they're reproduced by the powerful woofer incorporating a rolled free-edge cone. Here is the efficient long cone excursion necessary for faithful reproduction of the low frequencies. Brilliance and purity of sound are the hallmark of this system's powerful high frequency driver and wide dispersion reproducer. A completely airtight enclosure provides an "air cushion" which damps out the speaker's natural tendency to continue vibrating once it is set in motion. Compliance of the air permits the speaker cone to move forward and backward, but returns the cone to its natural position once the cycle is completed. Since the air has little mass, it has no audible effect on the sound. Its purpose is to eliminate inertial vibration, harmonics and distortion which otherwise would alter the sound from the original. This system offers theoretically perfect acoustic dimensioning and a completely airtight seal. Front and back baffles are permanently sealed with a special epoxy and the speakers are gasketed to insure an efficient and airtight acoustic suspension.
