18 FLEE TYRANNY

MIAMI, FLA. — Soundphoto — Eighteen liberty-loving Estonians who found German and Russian rule of their once-free land oppressive sailed into Miami last week crowded aboard an old 33 foot sloop. They had been to sea for thirty days sailing from Spanish Maderia. The boat was jointly purchased in Sweden. They have no permission to land in this country and the immigration authorities here are considering disposition of the matter while gifts from all over the country are showered upon them.

CLARENCEVILLE NEWS

By
MRS. AXEL RUTILA

Mrs. Harvey Dault and her new little daughter have arrived home from Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital. Bonnie Marsh of Ontario is vacationing at the Keweenaw Peninsula with friends.

The Westlakes of Eight Mile Road have returned from their annual vacation in northern Michigan. Merchandising in our shopping district at Eight Mile and Grand River is sort of mixed up, with Mr. Nette's meat market selling the only available soap flakes, and chignon, at that.

The Leonard Monettes of Ontario are vacationing in Northern Michigan to ease Mr. Monette's fever. They are among those who vacation later, and thereby save themselves many shuffles.

Dorothy Sanker of St. Martin's Drive entertained at a personal shower in honor of Rose Marie Butler at the Butler home on Monday evening. The guests included classmates of Dorothy and Rose Marie, from Immaculate High.

The Bolitons of Wadron, trying to prevail upon their ten year old to allow his older brother, Albert, to teach him piano or cornet or trumpet, get nothing but a negative nod. He will settle for listening but harkens.

Miss Carol Harbourn of List entertained a number of former classmates, the graduates of 1914 from Clarenceville, on Thursday evening.

Miss Eileen Holroyd of St. Francis and Mrs. Fogerman of the Leola Valley community, are visiting with Pte Earl Fogerman of the U.S. Engineers, in Illinois.

Earl Parsons of Ontario has returned from spending the summer on a farm. Earl has been helping the same farmer for the last two or three years, and deserves a good deal of credit for his perseverance.

The Methodist Church had Rev. Smith and a number from his Baptist congregation from Jackson as guests at their Sunday evening service. The birthday of the pastor, Rev. Elsie Johns, was celebrated during the reception and tea time that followed the service, and of course Mrs. Smith's, the former Marion Owen, attendance is always hailed as a sort of homecoming.

Corn roasts signal the fall season, as when the youngsters bring out the old football and the Clarenceville Trojans meet for their first get-together on Monday night.

The Arthur Manns have returned from their vacation. Mr. Mann is contacting the band uniform people, hoping to get some definite word about the new uniforms. The Club season has continued on a limited schedule during the summer, but for the Edgewood Mothers their first meeting will be held at the Minhnitnick home on Franklin Road. Girl Scouting gets under way on Tuesday evening with a round-up of leaders and others, at Mrs. Kellers on Eight Mile on Tuesday evening.

Egg Yokes

Yokes of eggs have more food value than the whites. The yokes have minerals and vitamins for growth and health. Both the white and yolk are protein rich. Protein builds and repairs muscle. True eggs take the place of lean meat in the meals. It is well to eat an egg each day. Eggs are easily digested if they are cooked at a low temperature. A high temperature in cooking toughens the white. Eggs cooked in water not quite boiling, are tender and jelly-like. Fried eggs should be cooked in fat that is not smoking hot.
