 Mortgagee's sale.
 Default having been made for more than thirty days to the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Earl K. Hower, and Louise C. Hower, his wife, to Beatrice F. Hall and Raymond P. Bauble, Trustees of the State of Frank Harris Floyd, deceased, dated the 27th day of October, A.D. 1944, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Oakland and State of Michigan, on the 31st day of October, A.D. 1944, in Liber 1965 of Oakland County Records, on page 273-4 on which mortgage there is claimed to be due and unpaid, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of $25,000, and no suit or proceeding at law or in equity having been had or instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

 Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

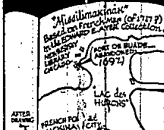

"MICHIGAN AND THE OLD NORTHWEST" — Victorious Britain

A fateful date in Michigan history: Sept. 13, 1759, on the Plains of Abraham.

Quebec's surrender, followed by Montreal (1760), doomed France in this region.

October, 1760: De Beausieu Villeneuve and his men quit the fort on the trail.

Perhaps that force left with Le Chapeleur's men via the Kankakee to Illinois.

 This phraseology would do justice to a Philadelphia lawyer, so we made an inquiry at the state department of public instruction as to what it actually means.
 We were informed that continuation of state aid to public schools as computed for the years 1945 and 1946, would be equivalent to 43 1/2 percent of the sales tax revenue. The new tax diversion, 16 1/2 percent, plus the qualifying clause, would freeze into the state constitution for use of the schools a total amount equal to approximately 60 percent of sales tax revenue.

For years the Michigan Education association has conducted biennial campaigns among legislators for more state aid.
 Pledgings have been effective, for schools are close to the hearts of the American people and the needs for more funds has not been hard to prove.
 If proposal No. 2 is carried on Nov. 5, the MPA lobbying will be over. The state constitution will guarantee, for years to come, a substantially higher proportion of state aid than schools have ever received.

Between now and November 5 the voters will have to make up their minds about several things.
 One is whether the schools have more money. Here we believe the MPA will be on firm ground. Since Shoensfield, one of the best writers of the Detroit News, recently made a detailed study of the Michigan school problem. The MPA liked it so well they obtained permission to reproduce the series of articles in a booklet which has been given wide circulation.

After interviewing scores of Michigan educators, Shoensfield came to the conclusion that public education was facing "complete collapse". Teachers are underpaid; quality of teaching staff has been deteriorating. The 15-mill tax limitation amendment, added to the constitution in 1932, has become a straight-jacket. Modern school buildings are imperatively needed.

The other topic for consideration is whether state services — such as welfare, colleges, prisons and hospitals — must be curtailed if one third of the three cent sales tax is to be diverted, and also whether new and added tax levies must be imposed in 1947 if state services are curtailed.

The $270,000,000 veteran's bonus — proposal No. 3 on the ballot — would be paid off in taxes, too. If this question of new and added taxes cannot be satisfactorily answered, then the veteran's bonus and the school aid issue are due for a head-on collision in the minds of Michigan voters before Nov. 5. Voters are apt to be wary about authorizing both — the veteran's bonus and more school aid — if they are convinced that increased taxes are inevitable.
