We've Come A Long Way ....

together! That's the American way of progress. We know it will work because we've tried it! Yet the modern trend seems to be for a new era. A period of confusion and back-biting, led by doubters and so called left-wingers. Men in high and low places bent on one course, social reform.

In other words a new school has arisen give-me school" or "I want something for nothing." It isn't entirely new — it just has more champions now than ever before. As history and experience have proven it gets the individual — the country, no-

It, like any other disease, has a great number of stages, from mild socialism to acute communism. Its stages, from find socialism to active confidential. Tessymptoms are pessimism, lack of constructive enterprise, debunkism, and utter disregard for the other fellow. It has grown and spread throughout our entire system of living, until it is no longer a virtue to be ambitious, thrifty or charitable. It is, if not checked, very apt to destroy these three qualities that made our country what it is.

This is not a nation of a few-it is a nation of many. All the loud shouting and raving has distracted our attention from the one important fact that nations aren't built on the "give-me plan", they're built on the "go-get-em plan."

Individual initiative and enterprise age the basis for any sound character. In spite of efforts to spread the wealth, to control incomes, to subsidize, and to control, those with a desire to succeed get there. That is the answer. A strong people and strong nation aren't built on gifts and hand-outs.

If we would pay as much attention to leaders who tell us how to increase production as we do to leaders who tell us how to get more for less work, we would begin to get somewhere. If we would forget that unemployment check from the government and go to employment check from the government and go to standard work, we would begin to get somewhere. If instead 1923 to 1923, of debunking and discrediting our leaders, who have made a success the hard way, we'd take a lesson from their example, we would begin to get somewhere.

We are at the crossroads — are we to take the smooth, grassy trail over the hill to nowhere — or are we going to get down and tackle the rough, stony trail that leads to American prosperity?

We've come a long way together! Shall we keep going?

One Word - One Life . . .

Carelessness! Yes, you have heard this before. You will hear it again and again, until it is banished from our vocabulary.

Carelessness - can mean a life. It has in the past year meant many lives, and unless it is eliminated it will mean many more. Most accidents whether they are on the highway, in the home or on the farm are caused by carelessness. They are caused because people don't think, or because they think it can't hap pen to them.

Carelessness-is everywhere. It is no respected of people, places or seasons. It takes over when you quit thinking. That's how accidents happen. That's how lives are lost.

Carelessness—must go. Just how we are going to chase it out is a question. It is the hope of safety experts, that carelessness will be exposed for what it That it will be shouted down enough so that peo ple will banish it.

Carelessness—has no place in our lives. So think — the next time you step in your car, the next time you go out to the barn, the next time you climb up on a chair to get to the top cupboard shelf. Think and play it safe.

TEN YEARS AGO (October 1, 1936) Two Sessions in Kindergarten

Two Spasions in Kindergarten
Because of overcrowding due to a record enrollment of 33, the kindergarten of the Farmington public schools has been divided into two sections, one of which meets in the morning and the other in the atternoon. The morning sessions are held for those living outside of Farmington and those in the afternoon for the city children.

Adder To Speak in Farmington
Phillip Adder, world traveler and lecturer and feature writer for the Dotroit News, will speak at the next meeting of the Farmington Woman's Club on Wednesday afternoon, October 14, at the Community Holl. Northville and Redford Clubs will be the guests of the Farmington (Dub at this meeting. The subject of the meeting is "international Redstions."

Relations." Tool Concern Logates in Farmington Production may begin within the next week in the new Farming ton branch of the Precise Tool and Manufacturing Company, located in what was formerly the Park garage on Grand River. Expansion of the company's facilities has become necessary because of a large lactease in business, says John A. Lutz, manager of the company. It is expect ed that 12 men will be employed in the Farmington branch.

FIVE YEARS AGO (September 25, 1941)

Guy McCollom House Entered

The second case of breaking and entering in the City within two a days occurred last Thursday night when the home of Guy McCollom. 12354 Brookdale Avenue, was entered. The prowlers gained entrance through a side window. It was discovered that $45.00 in nickels and pennies and $50.00 in bills in a folder had been taken. Also a quantity of jewelry, including three diamond riggs and a diamond stick pits.

Two teachers were hired this week, to supplement the teaching staff at Farmington Public Schools. The increase in enrollment has made it virtually impossible to care for all the students. The new teachers are Goorge Johnson, who will assist in the High School Mathematics classes, and in other overflow groups, and Ruth Bacon. A full time vocal instructor.
