HIS PLACE...in the land of the free!

"There's a place and means for every man alive," said Shakespeare. And who is more deserving of his place than our Jewell-born son? The land of the free is all love and joy! Joe needs no easy legacy from life. Most of all he wants a job—a chance to improve the golden moment of opportunity. Even now his charming bride-to-be is waiting for a happy tomorrow, and she proudly wears her genuine Orange Blossom diamond engagement ring as a radiant reminder of their sacred promise. Let's have a place for Joe, or make a place for him when he comes home—tomorrow!

GIRL SCOUTS NEED HELP TO COMPLETE YEAR

The Girl Scouts of Farmington are going to need some support from the community, and they are going to need it very soon.

In the past our Girl Scouts have received financial help through the Community War Chest Drive. However, there will be no assistance coming from the current Community Red Feather Drive now being held in Detroit and other surrounding communities.

The money which the Girl Scouts have already received will help carry them for a short time, but it is not enough to last throughout the year.

Oakland County has maintained a professional Girl Scout worker, Mrs. Marjorie Ruslander, in the past and she has done an immeasurable amount of good for Scouters throughout the County. A budget has been made up at the present time, retaining Mrs. Ruslander's services for this year, and Farmington will participate in this program. It will be necessary to secure additional financial help to carry on the work.

Remember when making your contribution to the Red Feather campaign, that your help is also needed locally, right with our own Girl Scout organization. If you desire any further information, or wish to make a contribution, please contact Mrs. Fred Maas, Farmington 6385, president of the Farmington Girl Scout Council.

Minister Returns From Kentucky Meetings

J. Scott Greer, minister for the West Point Church of Christ, Stevenson, Md., and Farmington Honda, has just returned from two successful meetings conducted in the state of Kentucky. Immediately upon the Evangelist's return, plans were being made to conduct a series of similar meetings at the West Point Church from October 13th to 27th.

Preparatory to this revival, Minister Greer brought a timely subject last Sunday based on the text, "Woe is me if I preach not the Gospel." First a challenge was given to the Church membership; in conclusion, an appeal was made to the visitors.

SCOUT COUNCIL PLANS BUSY YEAR FOR MEMBERS

The Farmington Girl Scout Council held its first meeting of the year last Tuesday evening. There was an exceptionally fine representation from both the Council members and the leaders group, and many plans were made for the fall Scout year.

The theme of this year's program is Active Citizenship, first in our club, and second, in our community. This follows up on the 1945-46 program theme, "International Friendship."

Scout Week will open with Scout Sunday on October 27, and will close with play day November 2. Fire Prevention Week is being observed with discussions in the troops on home hazards, and camping safety.

The Council regrets the resignation of Mrs. Leo Glendener as leader of Browne Troop 4. She has given many years of faithful service to this troop. At the same time, the Council welcomes Mrs. Dorothy Wright, who is taking the troop and will welcome to the new leaders and leaders to these new leaders led to Mrs. L. Kelly, who was elected president of the Leaders' Association.

Plans were made for the annual Girl Scout Council sale. The meeting adjourned, with refreshments served at the close of the evening.

CATTLE FEEDERS' DAY TO BE HELD ON OCTOBER 18

Michigan cattle feeders and packers will discuss economic problems at the annual Cattle Feeders' Day at Michigan State college, Friday, October 18.

These problems involve production, marketing, processing, wholesaling and retailing of beef. The annual event, sponsored by the animal husbandry and agricultural economics departments of the college, will begin at 1 p.m. at the livestock exhibition.

Production costs and methods of feeding will be discussed by the feeders. College feeding lots will be viewed and results of feeding experiments will be available to producers. Six of the lots of steers are now on feed in the college experiment.

Aware of the fact cattle feeding is more speculative because of present conditions, feeders are seeking information to help them plan their program. Costs of grain, labor and feed cattle are free from controls, but with meat and meat products under ceiling prices, many cattlemen ask for outside advice.

Stanley Wellman, manager of the Michigan Elevator Exchange, Detroit, will discuss the feed and protein situation. R. Dewey Stearns, vice-president of the Post Packing company, Chesaning, will discuss "Livestock Procurement Problems and Meeting Consumer Changes in Demand for Meat," before the group.

Prof. George A. Brown, head of the department of animal husbandry at the college is scheduled to cover the subject of "The Livestock Situation." Another packer, W. H. Hill, Detroit Packing company, Detroit, will explain the "Packers Position in the Livestock Industry."

All farmers interested in cattle feeding are invited to attend.

Shiny Reflector

Clean the reflector of your electric heater with a slightly damp rag wound on the end of a stick for accessibility. A shiny reflector gives off more heat.

Uncle Sam Says

Sucker bait is a phrase you have heard used or used yourself many times. Anglers know its meaning when they watch a fish bite for the impossible. The term also applies to individuals who send their hard-earned cash on get-rich-quick schemes. Your income invested in United States Savings Bonds will mount steadily and safely in value to serve you 10 years hence. The American who buys bonds regularly with the dollars he doesn't need today for living costs will not wind up a poor fish.

Ripening Beef
Ripening beef consists of keeping the meat in the chill room at a temperature slightly above freezing for a period of time. Such ripening improves the flavor of the lean. However, some decomposition of the lean and rancidity of the fat develops during ripening, and it is especially rapid on the unprotected lean surfaces and in the meat of young animals, which has a high water content. To ripen properly, meat must be from fat, fairly mature animals. Otherwise it will spoil rather than ripen.
