MICHIGAN PLANS OBSERVANCE OF FLOWER WEEK

The week of November 3-10 which has been set aside as National Flower Week will be observed widely in Michigan according to Paul R. Krone of Michigan State College, State Chairman for the Society of American Florists, sponsors of the activity.

This is an innovation in recruiting procedure and will be started November 1st for men enlisting for 3 years. Those enlisting will be sent directly overseas to join their division and will skip the usual preliminary assignment to training stations in the United States. Those adventurous men who join the Army for travel will welcome this new opportunity.

Local florists are cooperating wholeheartedly on this program by staging special exhibits and displays in their shops, providing special programs for garden clubs and meetings of other organizations.

They are paying special recognition to the occasion by having flowers placed in many public places and by throwing their own shops and greenhouses open to the public so that the beauty of the flowers growing there can be enjoyed by all.

As a special feature, Society of American Florist experts have compiled a special brochure of information on flowers, their arrangement, care and meaning which is available for garden club program chairmen to aid them in preparing special programs on flowers. These interesting booklets can be obtained free by writing to Paul R. Krone, State Chairman, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich.
