own people, in every conference, in every controversial discussion.

A firm stand can and must be taken as far as the United States foreign policy is concerned. Not towards Russia individually, but towards the world. We have certain principles and ideals that we feel are vital to a peaceful United Nations. We must stand by those ideals. It does not mean war to take this stand. We don't have to advertise a "take it easy with Russia" attitude to insure peace. We don't have to foster and support communism to keep peace with Russia. We can and must insist on following to the letter the various agreements outlined in Big Three conferences during the war.

Everyone Has A Theory

as to why voters over the nation went out in force last Tuesday for the G. O. P.

There is no question but what Mr. and Mrs.
Everyday Citizen went to the polls armed with big pencil and a determined look. They had made up their mind months ago that they were going to vote the Republican Party back in. It wasn't a late minute flash decision. It was a trend that started with the surrender of Germany and Japan and grew.

It wasn't entirely the meat shortage or the uncontrolled abor situation. It wasn't a turn away irom social reform or liberal thinking. It was a trend that started the surrender of Germany and Japan and grew.

It wasn't entirely the meat shortage or the uncontrolled unharrassed way of life. The days of temporary government aid and assistance, symbolic of The New Deal 1930's was over.

A new independent era caught the imagination of the voters. Common sense has shown them that government control only added bureaus, increased payrolls, and increased confusion. They wanted chance to prove to themselves that initiative and hard work was worth far more than a monthly government hand out. They saw a way to work out of the maze of red tape by individual enterprise and less hold back straps.

They saw an answer to labor problems and to production problems through a direct, straight for-

Farmington is Forging to the Front

The Detroit Free Press contained a fine group picture of the new bank building, the apartment just being completed and the handsome M. E. Church, the brick work for which is nearly completed. The picture was accompanied by complimentary reference to conditions here in Farmington. Another new building enterprise just now going on along Grand River Avenue at the west end of the village is the first Farmington's quota of Michigan sportsmen left Sunday evening for the Upper Peninaulia to hunt for big game. The eleven men, with others from Novit, South Lyon and Northville, made up a party who left Northville on a chartered Pulman Sunday evening. The deer season opened the 10th and the restrictions are greater this year as each hunter must shoot only a male deer and only one deer per man is allowed.

Water Main Approved
Work is expected to begin soon on a 51% UAPA project in Parmington, approval for which was granted this week by the President and WPA officials. The work to be undertaken will be the construction of a water main connecting the two dead ends at Power and Brookfade swenues on Nine Mile Road. The main will join these, two dead-ends, making a circulating system, according to Commissioner Emory Hatton.

Social Security Forms are being delibered by mail to employers in this area in preparation for registrated of workers who are eligible to the new to be supported to the state of the declaration of workers who are eligible visions of the act workers and enderly many the contribute equal sums.
