Harry Merritt, the Corporation Counsel of Oakland County, was present at last Wednesday's meeting of the Farmington Kiwanis Club, and was introduced by Wendell Brown, program chairman for the evening.

Mr. Merritt talked on the various functions of county government, and explained the limitations of the county government operation. He placed special emphasis on the importance of the county supervisors, who are the people's representatives in administration of county affairs. The supervisors work more closely with the people than any elected officers, and therefore it is of the utmost importance to have capable, conscientious representatives.

The speaker related some of his personal experiences and the problems he has encountered in settling tax matters before the Supreme Court.

He closed his talk with brief remarks on the American, Soviet Russia relations and urged his listeners to think in terms of peace, not war, where the United States and Russia are concerned.

Election of officers was held.

Wednesday, November 20, is the annual football banquet when members of the Farmington High School football squad will be the guests of the Kiwanis Club at dinner, and the program to follow.

SPORT HIGHLIGHTS

There is no regular bowling news this week, due to the fact that many of the leagues are not bowling this week and next, inasmuch as several of the members are pursuing a different form of sport, and have gone north for deer hunting season.

This leaves the Farmington Recreation open for a few nights, and those who wish to brush up a bit, or those who do not belong to a league, will be glad to know that there is open bowling on Sunday, November 14, and November 22.

If the Scouts haven't approached you, we will be glad to take care of your ticket needs if you will just call Farmington 1124-M, 1275, 1194-R or Redford 6502. Tickets will also be on sale the evening of the dance.

The Edgewood Mothers Club met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Lorents of Ontario last Wednesday. Mrs. Harvey Barnes and Mrs. Ralph Gallagher acted as assistant hostesses.

New little citizens are arriving in our homes at an alarming rate these last few weeks. The Ralph Wascas of Floral Avenue announce a new little daughter. The Tom Ryals of St. Francis have a new little son and so have the Donald Beyers of St. Francis. Congratulations to you all. The Clayton Schlotterbecks of Clawson, formerly residents of this town, have a new little red headed daughter.

The Youth Fellowship of the Methodist Church went roller skating Monday evening at the Rouge Rink, meeting a group from Down town. There, where they all spent a very enjoyable evening.

Dale Monette of Ontario entertained thirty or more fellow classmates of Our Lady of Sorrows School, and some neighborhood boys on Wednesday, his 13th birthday.

This family got the urge Friday evening to visit relatives in the Keweenaw Peninsula, and promptly threw a few rags in a suitcase and took off, traveling 14 hours, and returning on Monday afternoon. We had a first look at northern Michigan this time of year and found it beautiful in another way — the white birch and evergreen mixed with the dormant brown, and on the return trip the snow came down in quantity, as far as Marquette. That was another picture and when we saw the deer and his mate along the side of the road in the snow, we had seen all. As early as Friday the hunters were crossing the Straits on their way northward and the small towns had their "Welcome" signs out. On the return trip we sidetracked to Mio to look over the old CL 2 Boy Scout camping grounds of two years ago and found that spot intact, but the surrounding evergreens were a mass of charred skeletons, one horrible example of somebody's carelessness. The government's warnings about forest fires are not half strong enough.

Mrs. Ralph Anderson and Mrs. Albert Bolitho spent Tuesday downtown in the company of some friends.

Rev. Elsie Johns is returning to her Methodist congregation following a surgical operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Whitlock, in company of Detroit friends, attended the Michigan - Michigan State game at Ann Arbor on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Brady of Louise have gone to Florida for the winter season.

The Ed Kulpers of Galesburg spent the week end with Mrs. Kulp's parents, the Ernest Whitlocks of Purlingbrook.

Coach Samuels and his Trojans are being very royally entertained after the close of the football season. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts of Louise entertained at dinner on Thursday evening and on Tuesday evening the Youth Fellowship of Gaylord Baptist Church gave them a dinner, and entertainment afterwards. Such affairs remind one what a nice neighborhood they have in which to live.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Hartenstein have sold their home on Marguerite and moved to northern Michigan.

Nuomi Wells of St. Francis has returned to her employment after undergoing a tonsillectomy.

The Russell Cowans (Beulah Wells) live taken up residence with Mrs. Cowan's mother on St. Francis.

Norman Spensburgh, S. J. C. called his parents from his new station at San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thiem, key of Lapeer were guests at the wedding of Elaine Sulinsky at Our Lady of Sorrows Church on Saturday, spending the week end as the guests of the Arthur Manns.

The J-Hop at Betsford on Saturday evening was a mighty nice affair. Mr. and Mrs. Sturra, Mr. and Mrs. Cretchell, Mr. and Mrs. Samuels, Mr. and Mrs. McCuskey and Mr. and Mrs. Mann were patrons and patronesses for this year's party.

On Tuesday evening Scouts Tom Allan, Glen Grimm, Charles Broombaugh, Don Geygan, Bob Teahan, Bob Rousseau, Ed Grimm and Don Rutila, a crack patrol from Troop CL 2 put on their simulated arterial bleeding first aid demonstration at Districts 7 and 10 Scouts Training course, being held at Starck School. This demonstration was previously enacted at Detroit City Hall and the Cub Fair and each and every time the audience is more non-plussed than the time before. Realistic First Aid demonstrations such as this one are much more instructive than the cut and dried method.
