The increase in enrollment was only partially anticipated, as the college made preparations to receive approximately 10,500 students this term. However, the return of veterans far exceeded expectations to plush the registration beyond the 13,000 mark. It is estimated that 8,000 mark. It is estimated to some or about three to one. At the opening of the term, 5,300 of the students lived in college operated housing. In addition about 600 dependents were so housed. About 900 mar and women lived in fraternities or sorvities.
