SUB-DEB SHOW
IMPRESSES
F.H.S. GUESTS

In response to an invitation extended to the journalism class by the Detroit Federation of Sub-Debs, Lois Schmoll and her guest, Carol Brunette, attended a style show and luncheon Saturday, November 23, in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Statler.

The purpose of the luncheon-fashion show was to meet Maureen Daly, Sub-Deb editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, and to meet students and members of the 50 teen age group in the Detroit area.

In connection with the theme "We'll Always Be a Sub-Deb," Miss Helen Virginia Meyer, fashion historian, loaned her collection of teen styles bearing dates of 1896, 1911, 1921, and 1931. It included winter and summer outfitts, formal and school clothing for each period. A later exhibit of current 1946 fashions made an interesting contrast.

The mistress of ceremonies and commentator was Miss Anna Collins, one of Detroit's young women radio announcers.

Lois brought back an autographed picture of Miss Daly for the journalism scrapbook. L.E.S.

G.A.C. Holds
Basketball Tournament

Beginning last Wednesday the girls' basketball team will participate in a round-robin tournament to decide the school champions.

Results of Wednesday's tournaments are: Soph I over Freshman I; Junior I over Freshman I; Senior I over Junior I; Freshman II over Soph I; Freshman I over Soph I; Junior II over Senior II. M.H.

At mail rate of 5¢ effective on October 1, will bring the postal system more profit per pound than surface mail at the 3¢ rate, according to Air Transport Association spokesman.

EDITORIAL

The accident that took the life of an alumna should have started us all thinking. The Thanksgiving week-end will give us all an excuse to go camping off on a trip. Let's remember that an automobile is as dangerous as a loaded gun, when it's used carelessly. Play safe!

Eighth Graders
Have Theater Party

The eighth grade Social Living class did something new Friday night. As a body, they attended the Civic Theater and were admitted at half price.

Because of its great success, Mr. Gibson is planning a similar outing at a future date. L.E.S.

Cass Tech Comes
For Practice Debate

Last Friday the Farmington debaters, last team from Cass Technical High School, two debates were held with one negative and one affirmative team from each school taking part.

With Bill Koch, acting as chairman, Laura Hutton and Nancy Dietrich, judges, set Roger Steele and Al Rosenbaum before Miss Dammon's 45th hour English class.

In Mr. Smith's speech class Joe Steinberg and Steve Solsky, negative, met Margarette Wedin and Burke Martin, while Bob Beall acted as chairman.

The next meeting will be held November 25 at 7:15 p.m. in the school cafeteria. L.H.

Freskies' Party
Is A Big Success

The freshmen gave a class party Saturday, November 23, with a photograph supplying the music for dancing.

A short entertainment was given, after which refreshments were sold in the cafeteria.

The freshmen had a variety by having a disc dance and a grand march led by Ralph Herren and Suzie Labadie. L.L.
