

Christmas Concert To Be Presented

Elaborate preparations are being made for the Christmas Concert to be held Friday, December 13 in the gymnasium.

Beginning band students from Farmington, Noble and Bond Schools will join the first band from F. H. S. in this affair. Highlighting the concert will be special numbers from the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs and the Male Chorus.

Future Einsteins Pass In Review

Using the slide rule and solving equations of the first degree - and with one unknown - is now old stuff to the freshmen in first year Algebra. In fact, to prove their brilliance, in a recent test given to them by Mr. Oliver, out of the seventy-two taking it, nineteen made perfect scores.

The Algebra II and Trig classes are all working hard, too.

STUDENTS ATTEND SCHOOL PRESS CONFERENCE

Six members of Farmington High School will attend a meeting of yearbook editors-in-chief and prospective journalists to be held at the Rackham building, December 5.

Farmington representatives are Doris Lathrup, editor-in-chief of the yearbook; Robert Boal, managing editor of the Blue and White; Carol Joy from the yearbook staff; Marge Hunt, Marilyn Thureson and Lee Lathrup, from the Journalism department; and Marguerite Wedin, editor of the Falcon.

Upon conclusion of the opening session a luncheon will be served followed by a film demonstration. The meeting will end with a banquet in the Banquet Hall of the Rackham building. The guest speaker will be Mr. C. Yates McDaniel, Bureau Chief, Associated Press, who will speak on his experiences as a war correspondent in the Pacific area.

EDITORIAL

Follows and girls, the editorial in the Enterprise of November 21 hit a subject close to all of us. It put forth a challenge to us, to show the people of the town that we want a youth center.

We can answer by proving that we can take care of what we have now.

Around Halloween there was much destruction of private property. This is not only wrong, but it was unnecessary. As a student, I am 100 per cent behind the Enterprise's editorial. As your editor, I ask your help in accepting the challenge.

QUILL AND SCROLL CHAPTER NAMED FOR UPTON CLOSE

Although the Farmington Chapter of Quill and Scroll was established January 30, 1946, it was not until after election of officers that the members suggested Miss Marguerite Wedin, vice-president, write to Upton Close, the well known commentator, informing him of the chapter's desire to be named for him. Margaret Hatch, secretary, received his letter of acceptance August 1, in which he wrote, "I am more than honored, more than pleased that you have named Farmington Chapter of the Quill and Scroll International Honorary Society the Upton Close Chapter."

In her letter to Mr. Close, Marguerite asked him what he thought the modern journalist's highest aim should be. Mr. Close replied, "The young journalist's highest aim in our world of today, I believe, is to have a historical conscience—that is, to write news events with a sense of indication where they are leading and what this means to America's superior liberties."

Furthermore Mr. Close has taken an interest in the Chapter and has kept in contact with it through some of his friends. This was evidenced by the chapter's receiving a book, "We the People" by N. B. Williams, an author acquaintance of Mr. Close.

Debate Teams Prepare For Finals

On account of the illness of their director, Mr. Smith, the debate meeting was held at one of the team member's house, Marilyn Thureson.

No debates were staged, but a discussion was held on the coming tournament debate with Lansing, Sexton, to be held December 8.

Ancient Wonders
Granite and marble were used in the construction of all the so-called "man-made wonders of the ancient world": the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, the Sphinx, the Colossus of Rhodes, the Pyramids, the Temple of Solomon, the Statue of Zeus, the Tomb of Mausolus, and Pharos Lighthouse at Alexandria.

Kiwanians Sponsor Football Banquet

The Farmington Kiwanis Club sponsored the Annual football banquet on Wednesday night, November 20.

The guest speakers were John Hackett, Coach of Wayne University; Bob Cotton, co-captain of Wayne football team, and two of his freshmen guards.

Coach Hutton presented the letter, and then introduced Don Kobman, this year's captain, who announced next year's captain - Jerry Fisher.

The boys, as usual, had a grand time singing, eating and watching the movies of the Wayne-Ohio Wesleyan game.
