But... with my modern new GAS RANGE... I have lots of leisure time and he praises my meals more than ever

Today's gas range meets the modern homemaker's demands for speed, cleanliness and dependable heat control. Its low temperature cooking in the oven provides new hours of freedom from cooking worry, since the cook can depend on her meal to be cooked perfectly on time.
If it's easier, better cooking you want, see the new gas range first.

*Many gas ranges were formerly equipped with automatic clock control. It will now be available again for those who want it.

WASHINGTON DIGEST

tions. They were that:
1. He believes the capitalistic system cannot survive another war.
2. He believes the capitalistic system cannot survive another depression such as was witnessed through in the early 30's.
3. He is convinced that the country is headed for another such depression.
4. He believes that this endless perpetuation of free enterprise will be avoided if certain simple measures are taken.
5. He believes that this end-
prise justifies almost any means.
As soon as Wallace became secretary of commerce he attempted to reorganize the department along lines which had made the department as cooperation between government and farmers in concerned.
One of the first steps was to try to establish a system of "field agents" (similar to agriculture's county agents). Good men were hard to find; it takes time to build such a system. The personnel recruited under such conditions and within so short a time would be bound to include many incompetents and thus open the system to immediate attack by an unscrupulous congressman. Nevertheless, Wallace pushed his idea as far as he could during his tenure of office. This, his critics say, showed his inability to perform in a field with which he was unfamiliar, showed his lack of "political sense" (or, if you will, his failure to grasp the complexities of inter-personal relations).
Like many other men who have been thrust into high government offices without sufficient political experience, he attempted to absorb that experience vicariously.
Very few men who lack an understanding of political and personal relations caused him to accept advisors and counselors who frequently led him astray. Perhaps if he had been less idealistic his conduct would have been less ill-advised.

NATIONS KEEP JEALOUS
EYE ON ANTARCTICA
Adm. Richard Byrd is about to take off again for Antarctica with a host of anxious nations worried to death lest he run away with the fame and glory which he has won.
The foreign claims here legiti-mate enough, for during explorations have been nibbling at that piece of frozen plateau (bigger than Europe) ever since John Briscoe actually discovered what was given the name of Byrd's land in the early nineteenth century. Many others followed, but few took the keen interest in the Antarctic waste that Admiral Byrd did, although he didn't turn in the direction until after he had flown over the North pole.
Which reminds me of a dull Sunday, May 9, 1926. I was keeping watch in the Washington office of a feature syndicate which had the rights to Byrd's adventures. We knew he was going to hop off for the pole from Spitzbergen with Floyd Bennett soon, but we didn't know when.
Messenger boys had a habit of dropping unimportant messages on the particular desk with which I occupied and I hardly glanced up when one, still soggy, was tossed within my reach. I finished the last episode of the comic strip I was studying and opened the envelope. It contained one word, "polaris." That was the code word that meant that Byrd had flown over the North Pole and was back alive.
On November 29, three years later, he flew over the South Pole.
The flight was only a small part of extended explorations made on two separate expeditions.
Now Byrd is off again, with jealous competitors watching him with jealous concern. His expedition probably will be met with mixed emotions by the pundits who are the only inhabitants of Antarctica.
Byrd's first visit was a novelty to those decorous birds who never got out except in formal evening attire but I imagine homo sapiens has become in them just another way who has to go in when it snows.

Hospital Load Shows
Increase Over 1944 During 1945 one patient was admitted to a hospital in the continental United States every 1.9 seconds and a live baby was born in a hospital every 16 seconds, according to the 25th annual report of the council on medical education and hospitals of the American Medical association.
Figures reveal that in comparison with 1944 the number of hospital beds has increased from 1, 729,945 to 1,738,944, the number of admissions from 18,038,848 to 18,237, 002, the number of patient days from 427,607,484 to 512,915,153 and the number of hospital births from 1, 910,978 to 1,969,067.
Represented in the report are 6,211 hospitals registered by the American Medical association, including 1,158 hospitals approved for internships and residencies and 2-025 accredited by the American College of Surgeons as meeting unconditionally its minimum requirements for general standardization.
The number of hospitals totals 100 less than reported in 1944.

VETERANS AFFAIRS

VETS MAY GET LOANS FOR FARMS FROM NEWLY-FORMED U. S. AGENCY

World War II veterans who, for one reason or another, have been unable to obtain government-guaranteed loans or private loans for the purchase or operation of a family-type farm should be advised that such loans are available from the new Farmers Home Administration in the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Farmers Home Administration is the result of a merger of the assets and functions of the Farm Security Administration and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration, effective November 1.
The new agency has approximately $100,000,000 to provide operators of family-type farms with credit to improve farming operations or to become owners.

Loans are available alike to veterans and other civilians for buying live stock, feed, fertilizer, supplies, equipment, and other farm needs, for refinancing indebtedness and for family subsistence. This type of credit will be for from one to five years, at 5 per cent interest, with special guidance in planning operations whenever necessary.

40-Year Limit Farm ownership loans also will be granted in sums up to $12,000 at 3 1/2 per cent interest repayable over periods as long as 40 years.
This type of loan may be used to buy, enlarge or improve family-type farms. Variable payments may be arranged, so that the borrower may make larger payments in bountiful years and smaller payments in lean years.
Every person who obtains a loan also gets individual guidance in sound farm-management practices to help him run the farm on a profitable basis. The borrower sets up a "farm and home plan" detailing operation of the farm and is assisted by the county supervisor in carrying out the plan.

Veterans of all wars who have other than dishonorable discharges, and who fulfill requirements as to industry, experience and other assurances of success, are given special preference in the granting of farm-ownership loans, although others are eligible also.

Farm For Family Loans will be made available unless the farm as purchased, enlarged or improved constitutes an efficient family-type management unit.
However, a disabled war veteran may receive a loan for a smaller farm, of a size to match his farming abilities, if he devotes his major efforts to the farm to produce an income, which together with his disability compensation payments will enable him to meet living and operating expenses and repay his loan.

OAKLAND COUNTY RED CROSS NOTES

Red Cross Ladies, Nurses' Aides and other volunteers of the Oakland County Chapter American Red Cross will have their first opportunity shortly after Christmas to render service to a veterans hospital. Weekly trips to Dearborn Veterans Hospital will mark the first time the Oakland County volunteers will have experience working directly with veterans in a hospital. The chapter motor corps must be augmented however, before the trips can begin, according to Mrs. Fred Brock, Chairman of Volunteer Special Services. Women Interested in volunteering their services may contact the Red Cross Office, 53 1/2 W. Huron St., Pontiac, Telephone 4-3575. Motor corps drivers going to Dearborn will leave at 10 a.m. and return about 5 p.m. Volunteers who do not feel they can devote the whole day may release a present motor corps from her duties at the chapter office, thus filling the usual obligations of the chapter, as well as acquiring additional drivers for the hospital trips. New volunteers will supplement in chapter driving until the Dearborn trips begin when they will drive under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Gunn, Red Cross Field Director, at the hospital.

New Volunteers will be certified members of the motor corps after they attend a training course. Required training for regular emergency and reserve motor corps drivers includes 20 hours standard first aid; 10 hours advanced first aid; motor mechanics with five hours mechanics and 10 hours preventative maintenance and emergency repair. Instruction will also include simple adjustments. Lecture tests will be given and reactions by law enforcement officers in traffic rules and regulations.

Motor corps activities include delivering of blood and plasma to hospitals; transporting blood donors; transporting disabled veterans when on leave; maintaining a staff at headquarters for routine and for emergency calls. Mrs. Howard Bond is chairman of Pontiac Motor Corps.
