

Around The Block

HONESTY IS NOT DEAD . . .

By any means, as one Farmington woman will readily advise you, and well she may, for she had a very happy experience in this line just last week. On Thursday she lost her pocketbook, containing over $150.00 in cash, a Parker 61 pen and pencil set, a bracelet and several other items which she valued, as well as adequate identification. She knew just about where she had lost it, but it was nowhere near where she could do so. She was so sure that she had lost it, that she called her husband, who was at home, and he called her. She was sure enough, within a few hours, came a telephone call. Mr. Orrel Fulcher of Farmington had found the pocketbook, and it was returned to the rightful owner after she had properly identified it as hers. Not only was she delighted to have her money and belongings restored to her, but she was thrilled to know that such fine people as Mr. Fulcher lived right here in our own home town. We echo that sentiment.

MANY ARE THE PROBLEMS . . .

which are confronting the housewife these days. Not only is it difficult to plan the family's budget in keeping with the Lenten season, and still keep everyone satisfied, but now comes the news that food prices will soon be soaring to unexpected and unprecedented heights. There's no use trying to figure out why. The best way we can help, I guess, is to just keep our chin up and our spirits soaring - grumbling at the situation, but feeling worse, and it doesn't do a bit of good. We can be happy to know that we have so much more than anyone else, and do our best to work towards the restoration of normal living to our nation.

AT 11:00 A. M. SUNDAY MORNING . . .

Farmington residents will have the opportunity of hearing one of the nation's foremost speakers on our day when Dr. John E. Marvin, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, will occupy the pulpit of the First Methodist Church, on Layman's Sunday. Dr. Marvin has established an enviable reputation as a speaker, and he has a timely and inspiring message to offer. You are extended a most cordial invitation to attend this service.

BUMPETY, BUMPETY, BUMP . . .

and finally one arrived at the intersection of Grand River and Farmington Roads. That is the way it was coming into our city from the north. City men have at work this week, however, repairing the road. They have heated the surface of the road, melting down the topping and then smoothing out the bumps and leveling up the holes. In other words, it ought to be a lot easier riding from now on - for which motorists will undoubtedly give many a silent tribute, for the road had been getting steadily worse until it had become a real hazard. The hazard courses one might find at an automobile proving ground.

COME FRIDAY . . .

we end the month of February, and all of us will be looking forward to see what kind of weather lies in store for us on Saturday, when March arrives. Will it come in like a lion, and thus go out like a lamb, or are we in for a balmy month, only to be let down later, and find that our wintry blasts will return before we can actually shake back and know that spring has arrived? So many folks have been complaining that the winter seemed so long this year, and more than ever they are anxious for the arrival of warmer days.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS . . .

is starting its drive for funds this Monday, March 3, launching its annual appeal for help in carrying on this great work. Nationally the entire month of March has been set aside for the Red Cross Fund drive. It is the hope of Farmington that the quota of $3,360 may be secured in a record length of time, and the drive may be considerably shortened. In times of national emergency it is to the Red Cross that people look. Your generosity now will make it possible for the Red Cross to give an immediate response to any call for help. Make your own contribution. Knickerbocker of the Farmington State Bank heads the drive locally.

WITH THE ARRIVAL . . .

of March one's thoughts turn to such things as cleaning - whether it is the spring cleaning the house gets, or whether it is the cleanup, paint-up campaign that is set on foot. It is a common thing to see everyone gets the urge to have their city all cleaned up for the new season. It makes little difference. Fundamentally it is the same natural tendency - when nature bursts forth in new foliage and bright new garb, all of us feel that we want to do as much, to the best of our ability.

HURRY, HURRY, HURRY . . .

there's little time left in which to pay your City or Township taxes, or to get that 1947 license plate for the family jalopy. That deadline that you read about weeks ago is actually here! Probably you've taken care of both matters some time ago, but if not you'd better hurry to the City Hall, as the case may be. If you have to stand in line, there's no point in getting outch about it for the only one on whom you can place the blame is you know who!
