Bentley Looking For Questions To Be Answered

Bentley High is on the search of baseball talent, but Bulldog Coach Marty Klozik hasn't brought out the white flag yet.

The lone returning starter is All-League outfielder John Gentz and surprisingly enough, Klozik is excited about the challenge with a new young team.

"We have a great group of enthusiastic players," added Klozik. "With a few breaks it could be a very interesting season."

Third base was to be a bright spot in the Bentley lineup with the return of All-

League Ed Levell. But a football injury is far from healing, and Levell will be watching the entire season from the bench.

The lone returning starter is All-League outfielder John Gentz and surprisingly enough, Klozik is excited about the challenge with a new young team.

"We have a great group of enthusiastic players," added Klozik. "With a few breaks it could be a very interesting season."

BOB COUCH and Joe Kearney show some varsity experience on the mound with Klozik looking to juniors Archie Welch and Alex Carayannopoulos for pitching help.

The outfield appears to be the strong point with Chuck Hirst, Steve Houghton, and Paul Sevigny contending for positions behind Gentz.

The infield is up for grabs with six candidates in the running for the four positions. The two returners are Tom Worniak and Pat Perino with the Junior assault featuring Gregg Neale and Doug Platt. Jeff Moston and Mark Newell are the two sophomores out for the infield slots.

Bentley opens with Bloomfield on April 4 and clashes with Belleville in the first Suburban Eight contest on April 18.

IT COULD BE AN INTERESTING SEASON -- Bentley baseball Coach Marty Klozik and senior hurler Bob Couch discuss what could be a long season unless the Bulldogs come up with some surprise talent. (Observer photo)
